BRAND FOUNDATION

BRAND PERSONALITY

INTRODUCING BRAND PERSONALITY

WHAT IS IT?

Just like people, brands have personalities. They make us distinct and interesting. That’s why it’s so important for us to define and stick to a consistent personality—one that helps convey who we are as a brand and what we do for our audiences.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

TriNet’s personality informs how the brand shows up in the world. Practically, this looks like a persona characterized by a set of personality attributes. These attributes help us build a consistent brand image for all audiences and communications—including how the brand looks and sounds (but we’ll dive deeper into that later in our visual and verbal identity sections).

WE ARE THE TRUSTED ADVISOR.

The dedicated resource for all things HR

The champion of small and medium-
size businesses
(SMBs)

The first place our customers turn to for support

WHAT KIND OF TRUSTED ADVISOR ARE WE?

TRUSTED ADVISOR

WE'RE AN EXPERT.

We're by your side to take on your HR admin and guide you through the complexities of HR compliance.

WE'RE EMPATHETIC.

We care about people, which is why we're always working to give them choices and HR solutions that make their lives easier.

WE'RE PASSIONATE.

Everything we do is to help our customers reach their goals and provide more for their employees.

OUR BRAND TAGLINE: PEOPLE MATTER

HONORING SMB LEADERS AND EMPLOYEES WHO POWER THE AMERICAN DREAM

Every day, the people of SMBs do incredible things—from curing diseases and supporting the less fortunate, to protecting the planet and building new technologies to enhance our lives. Our HR solutions empower them to focus on what matters with access to HR expertise, premium benefits, compliance, payroll and real-time technology—so they can fulfill their mission.

PEOPLE MATTER BRAND CAMPAIGN

OUR PEOPLE MATTER CAMPAIGN CELEBRATES THE PEOPLE WHO INSPIRE US TO DO WHAT WE DO.

Our work is all about people. Not just businesses, but the people inside them.

We support small business owners who embody the American entrepreneurial spirit. We help businesses create better workplaces for their people. And we give people choices about the kind of benefits that will suit their lives.

As a trusted advisor, we provide the foundation for people to look after businesses and for businesses to look after their people. Because people matter.

OUR SUITE OF PRODUCTS

HOW WE POSITION OUR BRAND

TriNet provides SMBs with full-service industry-specific HR solutions, with offerings that range from software-only human resources information system (HRIS) to our full-service professional employer organization (PEO). Our aim is to meet SMBs wherever they are in their entrepreneurial journey.

trinet⁺
HR Plus

Outsourced services for HR, payroll processing and payroll tax compliance.

trinet⁺
PEO

Full-service HR—a complete solution for payroll, benefits and compliance.

Product Wordmark

Overview

The TriNet product wordmarks consist of the TriNet company logo and the product name. Each has been carefully crafted. Their relationship to one another and the look they achieve should not be altered or distorted. The product wordmarks are available in a number of file formats and come in both stacked and horizontal. The stacked version is the main and preferred lockup. When vertical space is limited, the horizontal lockup is preferred.

STACKED

HORIZONTAL

Product Wordmark

Clear Space

The product wordmarks must have clear space free from any other graphic elements or text to ensure that our brand’s key visuals are easily recognizable.

Clear space must be at least two wing mark wide on all sides of the wordmark or symbol. When possible, more clear space is preferred to create more brand impact.

CLEAR SPACE

2x Wing Mark
Use the Wing mark as a guide in finding the minimum clear space needed on all sides of the TriNet product wordmarks.

Product Wordmark

Minimum Sizes

To communicate effectively and maintain the integrity of our brand, it's essential to keep the product wordmark to be legible enough.

The minimum size is measured by the height of the wordmark. We've carefully tested the wordmark and symbol in both digital and print contexts, so please adhere to these minimum sizes.

VERBAL IDENTITY

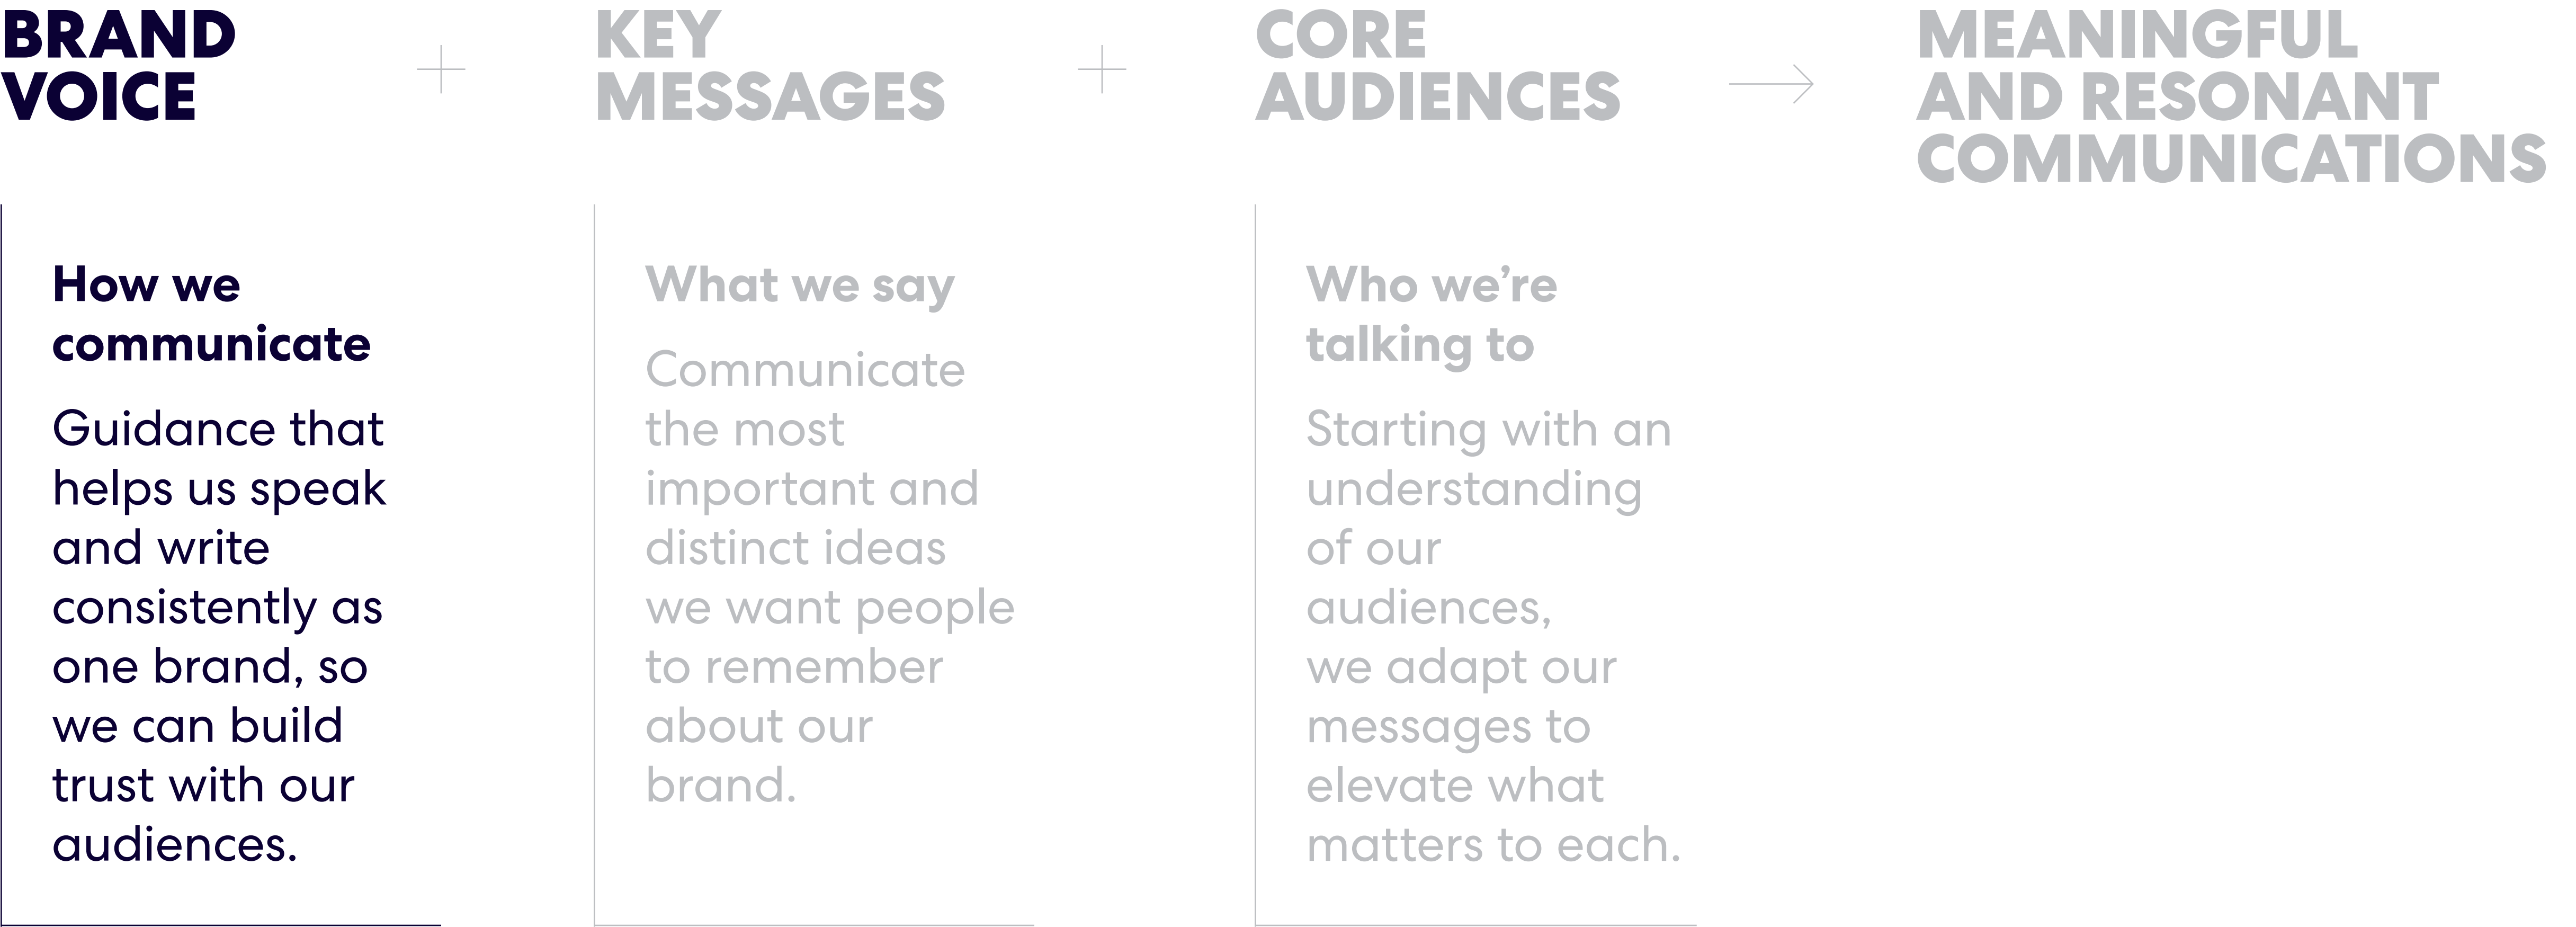

OUR VERBAL IDENTITY IS EVERY SINGLE WORD WE SAY AS A BRAND.

It builds a relationship between us as a trusted advisor and our audiences.

From what we say to how we say it, our verbal identity encompasses the tools we use to consistently communicate our unique value. For us, these tools include our brand voice, key messages and audiences messages.

Let's dive in to brand voice first.

WHAT MATTERS WHEN CREATING COMMUNICATIONS?

OUR VOICE IS THE WRITING STYLE WE USE TO COMMUNICATE OUR STORY.

It helps us speak in a way only TriNet can. Every verbal communication should adhere to our voice attributes, but we use our attributes at different “volumes” depending on the context, what our audience needs and the purpose of the communication.

And, of course, these attributes stem from our brand personality. We’ll show you on the next page.

OUR BRAND VOICE

HELPFUL

We speak with clarity and empathy to ensure our audiences feel understood, supported and confident.

What we're not

Sales-y. We make our audiences feel like they're talking to a person that gets them, not a company that wants something out of them.

EMPATHETIC

PERSONABLE

We sound like someone you'd want to get to know—warm and refreshingly real—and sometimes even a little funny.

What we're not

Insensitive. We're genuine and mean what we say, but we never overshare or forget others' feelings.

PASSIONATE

OPTIMISTIC

We celebrate and encourage small and medium-size businesses so they can reach their full potential.

What we're not

Carefree. We stay positive, but that doesn't mean we disregard or ignore our audiences' struggles.

WRITING IN A HELPFUL TONE

WRITING IN A HELPFUL TONE

TECHNIQUE

Name the feeling

Our services support our audience in a practical sense but also in an emotional sense. Think about what your audience is feeling and state the outcome.

You don't always need to include the emotions explicitly in your writing (e.g. "Our payroll management brings joy"), but you can use them as a guide for talking about the benefits of working with us.

EXAMPLES

To instill confidence:

"Business is unpredictable. Get HR support you can count on."

To instill peace of mind:

"Payroll woes are no match."

WRITING IN A HELPFUL TONE

TECHNIQUE

Pause for clarity

Everything we say should be clear and easy to understand. But sometimes, it’s nice to go the extra mile and use clarifying phrases to show how we’re making complex topics more digestible and interesting.

EXAMPLES

“TriNet APIs allow developers to build on the integration from our platform and other apps. In other words, it’s easy to sync data between our platform and the apps you use every day.”

“We help businesses comply with employee benefits regulations. So, what does this really mean? For starters, we take on the admin responsibility that comes with the territory of health plans so you can minimize your risk.”

WRITING IN A HELPFUL TONE

TECHNIQUE

Get it done

Express a sense of urgency using quick, punchy lines that show your audiences that you get the job done quickly and simply.

EXAMPLES

“Consider it done.”

“Leave it to us.”

“To-do list, complete.”

“You’re all set.”

WRITING IN A HELPFUL TONE

AVOID

Overselling

We want to show how our offerings can help our audience—but often, the best way to do that is to avoid “selling” language that tries to fulfill their needs with solutions.

Try simply stating our benefit or spending more time empathizing with the challenge they’re facing.

INSTEAD OF:

“We know employment-related regulations are constantly changing. That’s why we have compliance experts ready to help 24/7.”

“When benefits become burdensome, you need an expert who can help.”

TRY:

“Our HR generalists are available 24/7—for every late-night rumination.”

“Focus on your people. We’ve got experts for the other stuff.”

WRITING IN A PERSONABLE TONE

WRITING IN A PERSONABLE TONE

TECHNIQUE

Ask illuminating questions

Questions are a sign of engagement and we want our audiences to know we genuinely care. Ask rhetorical questions to get your point across in a warm and sometimes humorous way.

EXAMPLES

“Be honest: when was the last time you went a day without thinking about payroll, benefits or regulations compliance?”

“What would you do if you never had to worry about payroll again?”

WRITING IN A PERSONABLE TONE

TECHNIQUE

Make it a conversation

When people talk in real life, it’s not perfect. We take pauses, start sentences with conjunctions, use colloquialisms, avoid jargon and speak in sentences of varying lengths. Before you publish your writing, read it out loud—does it sound natural, like something you would say in conversation?

EXAMPLES

“Take a rain check on payroll. Forever.”

“Oh, we’ve got options.”

“You need guidance. And we have answers.”

WRITING IN A PERSONABLE TONE

TECHNIQUE

Be honest

Level with your audience. Use to-the-point phrases that give the reader a refreshing bout of honesty that lets them know they can trust you.

EXAMPLES

- “There are better ways to spend your time.”
- “Your compliance meeting could’ve been an email.”

WRITING IN A PERSONABLE TONE

TECHNIQUE

Write with inclusivity in mind

Embracing diversity is essential for creating content that is respectful and accessible to a diverse audience. Here are some guidelines for writing inclusively:

- Be culturally sensitive: Avoid stereotypes and cultural appropriation in your writing. If discussing specific cultural practices, ensure accuracy and respect. Feature characters and examples from a variety of backgrounds and experiences. Avoid reinforcing stereotypes or portraying certain groups in a negative light.

- Use inclusive language: Avoid gendered language where possible using gender-neutral terms and pronouns. Be mindful of the language you use to describe different ethnicities, cultures, religions, abilities and other characteristics.

Remember, writing inclusively is an ongoing process. It's important to be receptive to feedback and continuously educate yourself on best practices.

WRITING IN A PERSONABLE TONE

AVOID

Forced humor

Our humor should come naturally and feel more like understated moments of joy than slapstick, punny, put-down or laugh-out-loud jokes. Use situational humor to shed light on everyday moments that are made easier with TriNet.

Lean into humor in informal channels, like social media, email or OOH.

NOT OUR HUMOR:

“With TriNet, you can try less.”

“You cracked the code! While some people are dealing with HR compliance, you’re out there doing more important things.”

OUR HUMOR:

“No more Mondays spent Googling ‘HR compliance’”

“Retire the spreadsheet. We’ve got something better.”

WRITING IN AN OPTIMISTIC TONE

WRITING IN AN OPTIMISTIC TONE

TECHNIQUE

Explain the outcome

It’s easy to say that we’re passionate about helping businesses thrive, but it’s another thing to name why. Get specific about the real-world outcomes that make TriNet’s work meaningful.

EXAMPLES

“We want to see your business grow.”

“We’re working to get you the top talent you deserve.”

“A healthy, happy workplace doesn’t build itself.”

WRITING IN AN OPTIMISTIC TONE

TECHNIQUE

Be positively inspiring

We want our audience to feel hopeful and inspired for what’s to come. Use positive language that focuses on the feeling and celebrates the benefits and joys ahead.

EXAMPLES

“Your future self will thank you.”

“HR admin shouldn’t hold you back.”

“Build your vision.”

WRITING IN AN OPTIMISTIC TONE

TECHNIQUE

Champion every win

Think about how you would encourage a friend: acknowledge their milestones, express belief in them and talk about all the things they can accomplish. Use short, clear sentences to emphasize your point.

EXAMPLES

- “You just made HR complexity a thing of the past.”
- “Say hello to more time.”

WRITING IN AN OPTIMISTIC TONE

AVOID

Over-enthusiasm

We want to balance friendliness and warmth with professionalism and credibility. Avoid using grandiose language, superlatives and exclamation points.

INSTEAD OF:

“Thanks for signing up for our newsletter!
We appreciate you!”

“Working with TriNet is the best thing you could ever do for your business.
We promise!”

TRY:

“You’re all signed up. Now you can look forward to the latest news on all things HR.”

“With less HR admin, you can do more meaningful work for your business.”

MESSAGING

WHAT MATTERS WHEN CREATING COMMUNICATIONS?

KEY MESSAGES

KEY MESSAGES ARE THE ONES WE WANT TO ELEVATE FOR OUR AUDIENCES.

They help us all tell one clear story across all communications. They should act as a blueprint that informs our communications, but they aren't necessarily copy themselves.

KEY MESSAGE 1: TRUST

TRADE COMPLEXITY FOR CERTAINTY

Offload your HR admin and the unpredictability that comes with it. We take on regulation complexity, mitigate legal risks and provide industry-specific expertise, so you can navigate the ins and outs of people management with ease.

HOW WE DELIVER*

- TriNet has compliance experts to help customers with industry-specific issues
- Customers can shed risk by shifting responsibility of benefits, retirement plans and more onto TriNet
- TriNet has deep technical expertise across industries, helping customers navigate changing regulations and discrepancies in state laws

*Proof points demonstrate how we deliver on our messages today and should be constantly evolving and expanding to reflect how we grow as a brand.

KEY MESSAGE 2: SCALABILITY

GROW AND ADAPT WITH CONFIDENCE

Get HR support that sticks with you through it all. Our solutions are designed for companies of many sizes and needs—so no matter how your business changes, we have the solutions to support you.

HOW WE DELIVER*

- Full-service HR solution
- TriNet can service companies from five employees to a thousand employees
- Acquisition of Zenefits means TriNet will be able to meet the needs of even more companies

*Proof points demonstrate how we deliver on our messages today and should be constantly evolving and expanding to reflect how we grow as a brand.

KEY MESSAGE 3: EMPOWERMENT

TAKE BACK YOUR TIME

Your business needs you. Spend less time on HR admin and more time focusing on your vision and the work that makes a difference for your business, your colleagues and the people your business serves.

HOW WE DELIVER*

- TriNet resolves the complexity involved in benefits, taxes, overtime, etc. so business owners can pursue their passions
- Enrich program offers more equitable access to benefits for WSEs
- TriNet helps businesses look after the interests of their employees and create a better work culture in the process

*Proof points demonstrate how we deliver on our messages today and should be constantly evolving and expanding to reflect how we grow as a brand.

BRINGING IT ALL TOGETHER

WHAT MATTERS WHEN CREATING COMMUNICATIONS?

HOW TO CREATE MEANINGFUL AND RESONANT COMMUNICATIONS

Using existing copy samples, we illustrate how our word choices and way of framing an idea could change based on our voice and key messages. These are not necessarily meant to be final copy recommendations, but examples of how we can apply our verbal identity to create on-brand content for TriNet.

We've also developed a “one-sheet” reference for content creation that summarizes the main ideas in this playbook.

how does your year look?

INTRO

You’ve almost made it to the end of another year—and that means it’s time to choose your benefits to begin on January 1. Finding the right fit for your life shouldn’t be a chore, so we pulled together a new selection of offerings with top insurance carriers and flexible options to meet your needs. Now, all you have to do is select and enroll.

QUICK REFERENCES

QUICKSTART GUIDE

1	What are you trying to say?	What's the main idea you're trying to communicate? Using our key messages, decide what's most important to focus on as you're organizing and developing content.
2	Who are you talking to?	Each of our audiences has different needs. Before you begin developing a communication piece, consider who you're talking to, what's important to them and why the communication matters to them.
3	What's your goal?	Each communications touchpoint has a different purpose. Having a clear understanding of what you want to accomplish with your piece and where it will appear should inform how you're communicating and what you're saying.
4	How should you say it?	How can we write to evoke a tone that's helpful and personable? How can we sound optimistic? Consider our voice attributes to help you choose the best words and structure for the communication.

ONE-SHEET REFERENCE FOR CREATING CONTENT

1	What are you trying to say?	KEY MESSAGES TRADE COMPLEXITY FOR CERTAINTY	GROW AND ADAPT WITH CONFIDENCE	TAKE BACK YOUR TIME
2	Who are you talking to?	CUSTOMERS Small and medium-size businesses (often owners/C-suite or HR professionals) who want to outsource HR tasks in order to grow their business	WSES Employees of customers/prospects who benefit directly from their employers' relationship with TriNet	PARTNERS Companies looking to offer top-notch HR services to their own clients (CPAs, brokers, VCs, strategic partners like WeWork)
3	What's your goal?	IS IT FUNCTIONAL? e.g., press releases, boilerplates, about us blurbs, etc. • Think about where the copy will appear visually on a page • Don't assume the reader knows anything; start from ground zero • Select words carefully—less is more		IS IT PROMOTIONAL? e.g., social posts, ads, etc. • Focus on impact and elevate why it matters • Tell a story and bring it to life • Embrace creativity, but tie it back to a call to action—what do you want your audience to do, think or feel as a result of this?
4	How should you say it?	HELPFUL We speak with clarity and empathy to ensure our audiences feel understood, supported and confident.	PERSONABLE We sound like someone you'd want to get to know—warm and refreshingly real—and sometimes even a little funny.	OPTIMISTIC We celebrate and encourage small and medium-size businesses so they can reach their full potential.
5	Don't forget ...	☐ Did you indicate where the audience can get more information?		☐ Do you have a clear call to action?

Rationale

Lowercase letterforms
Convey the brand's approachability and trusting customer relationships

Orange
Expresses the strength and warmth of TriNet

Wing mark
Nestled into the wordmark, the wing signals how we partner with customers to lift them up

Bold “tri”
Signifies the unity and strength in the relationship between TriNet, its customers and WSEs

“Shield” t
The last “t” and the wing come together to form a subtle shield, emblematic of the way TriNet mitigates risk for its customers

Logo Overview

TriNet is a trusted advisor supporting small and medium-sized businesses, the economic and creative drivers of the country—and our visual identity is a reinforcement of that commitment. The simplicity of the wordmark’s design reflects how TriNet seamlessly manages the complexities of running a business.

WORDMARK

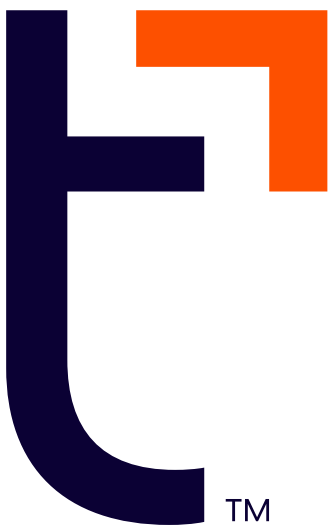

Simple, expert, approachable
Set in all lowercase letterforms, with the wing mark embedded within the final “t.”

Typesetting note:
Use camel case “TriNet” in all copy.

SYMBOL

A singular, recognizable shorthand
The wing mark joins with the final “t” of TriNet to form a shield, providing TriNet with an identifiable shorthand symbol for contexts like the TriNet app icon and social media avatars.

Logo

Minimum Clear space

Clear space is the buffer area surrounding a wordmark or logo that must remain free of any other graphic elements or text to ensure that our brand’s key visuals are easily recognizable.

Clear space must be at least one wing mark wide on all sides of the wordmark or symbol. When possible, more clear space is preferred to create more brand impact.

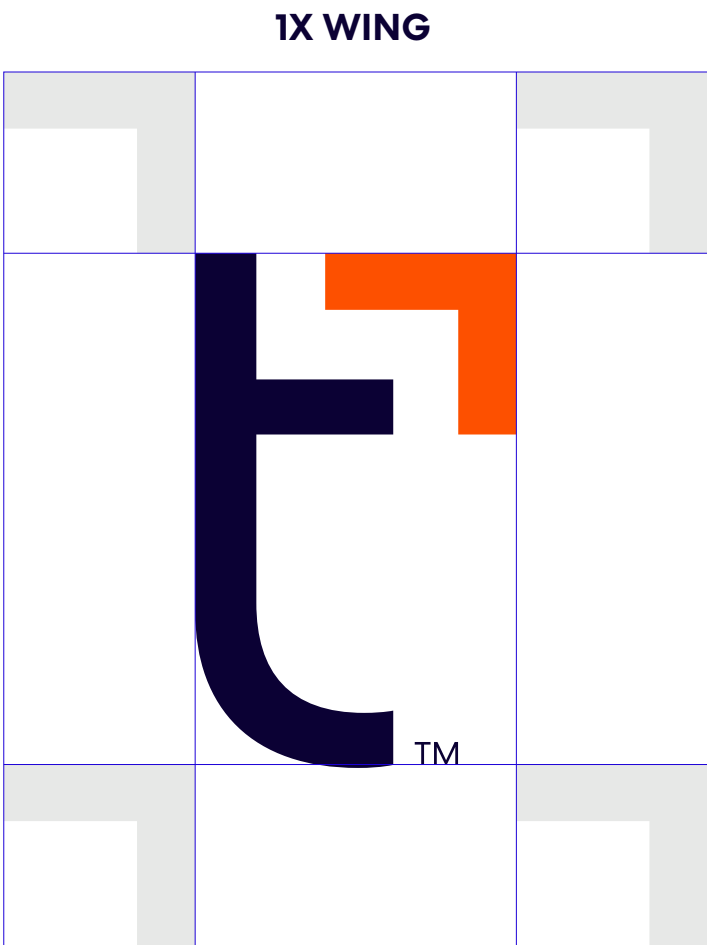

WORDMARK

1x Wing Mark
Use the Wing mark as a guide in finding the minimum clear space needed on all sides of the TriNet wordmark.

SYMBOL

1x Wing Mark
Use the wing mark as a guide in finding the minimum clear space needed on all sides of the TriNet symbol.

Logo

Minimum Sizes

To communicate effectively and maintain the integrity of our brand, it's essential to keep the wordmark and symbol large enough to be legible.

The minimum size is measured by the height of the wordmark or symbol. We've carefully tested the wordmark and symbol in both digital and print contexts, so please adhere to these minimum sizes.

DIGITAL MINIMUM SIZES

HEIGHT: 24 PX

HEIGHT: 20 PX

PRINT MINIMUM SIZES

HEIGHT: 12 PT

HEIGHT: 8 PT

RATIONALE:

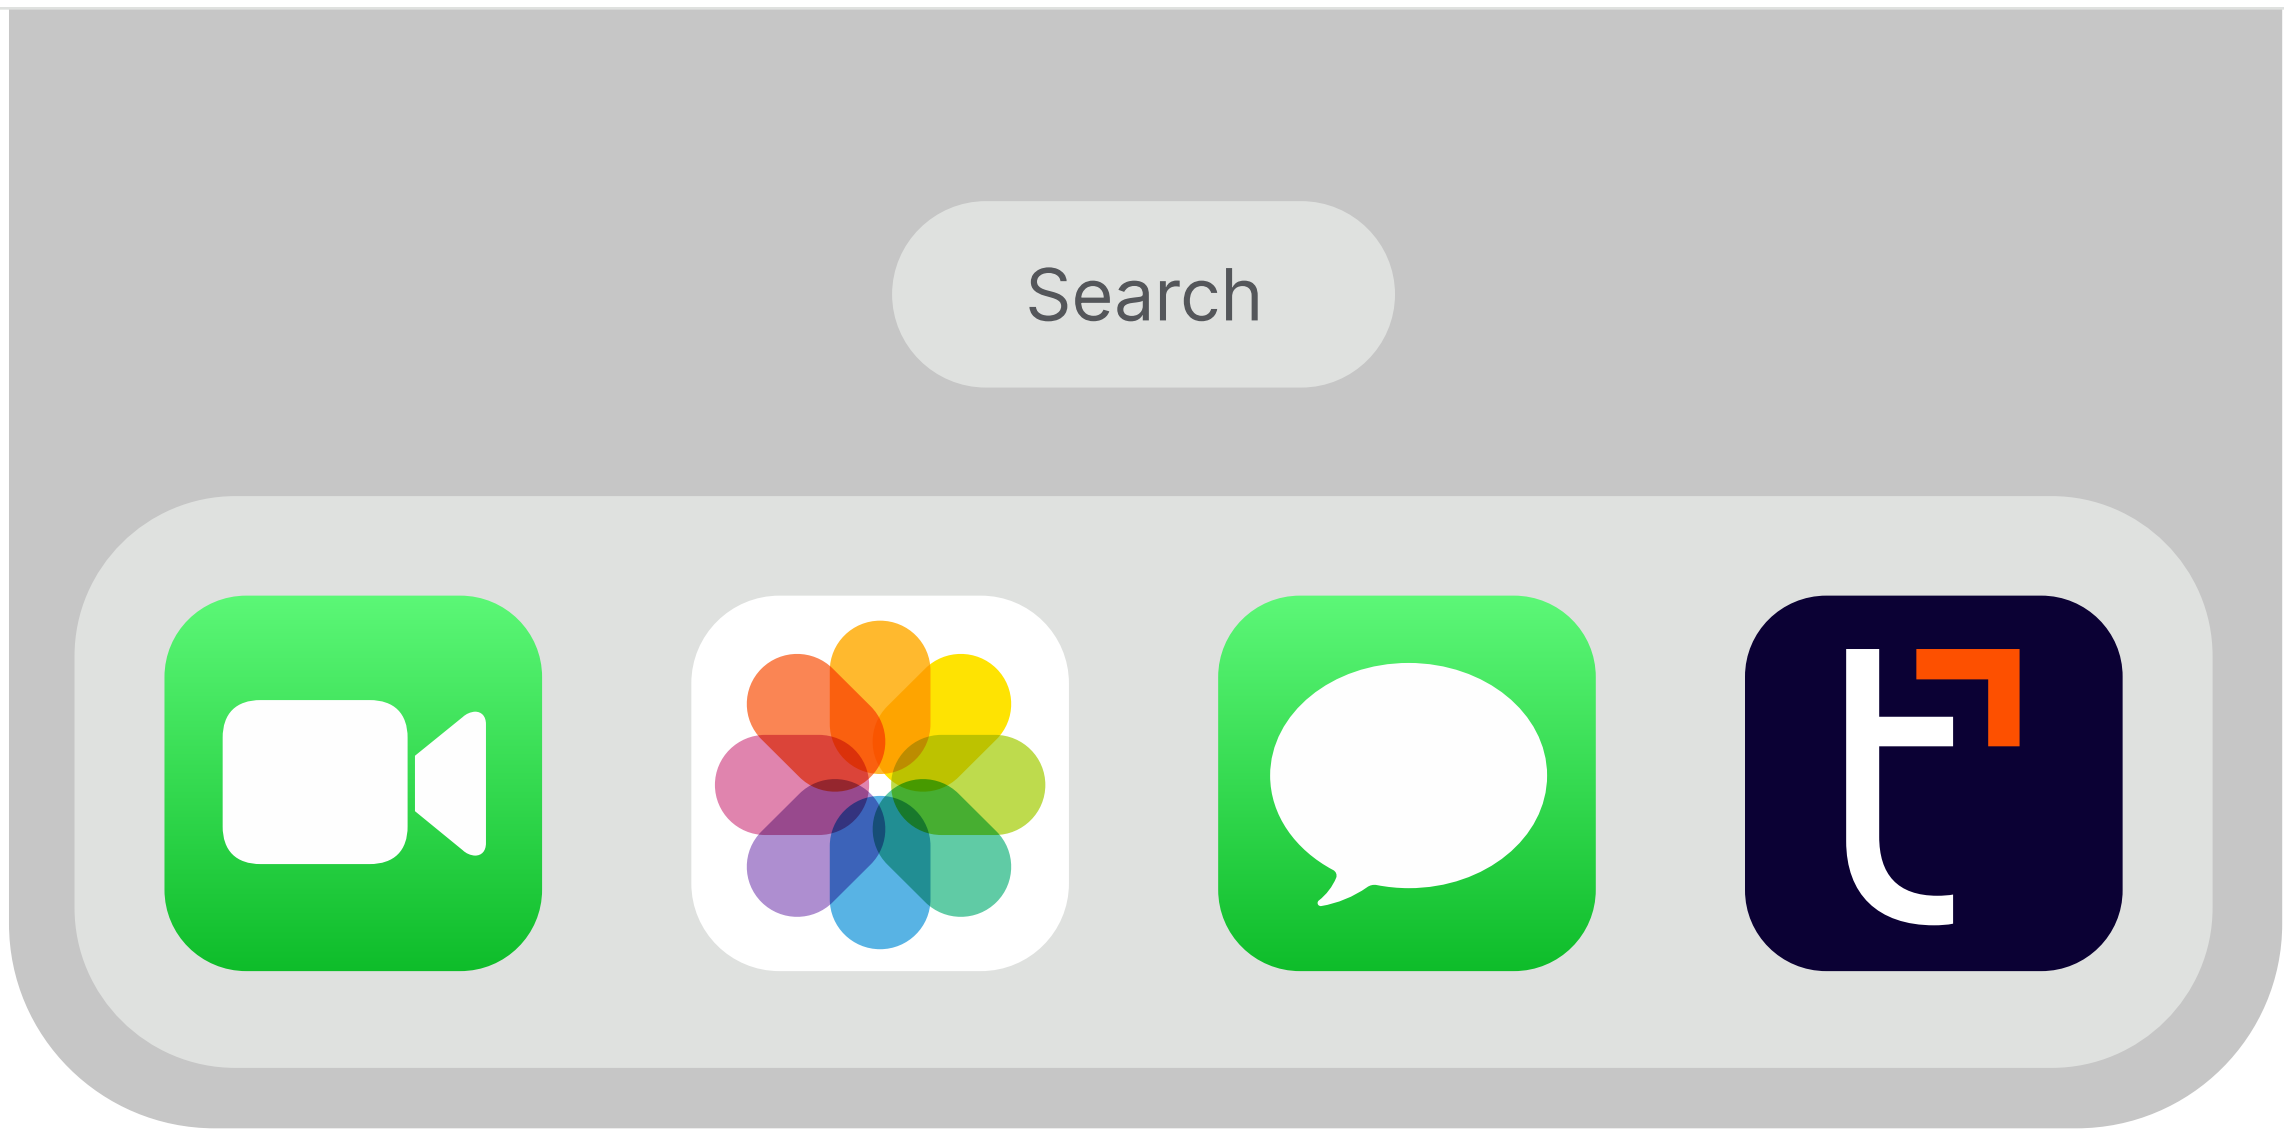

“Shield” t

USE CASES:

SOCIAL AVATAR
APP ICON

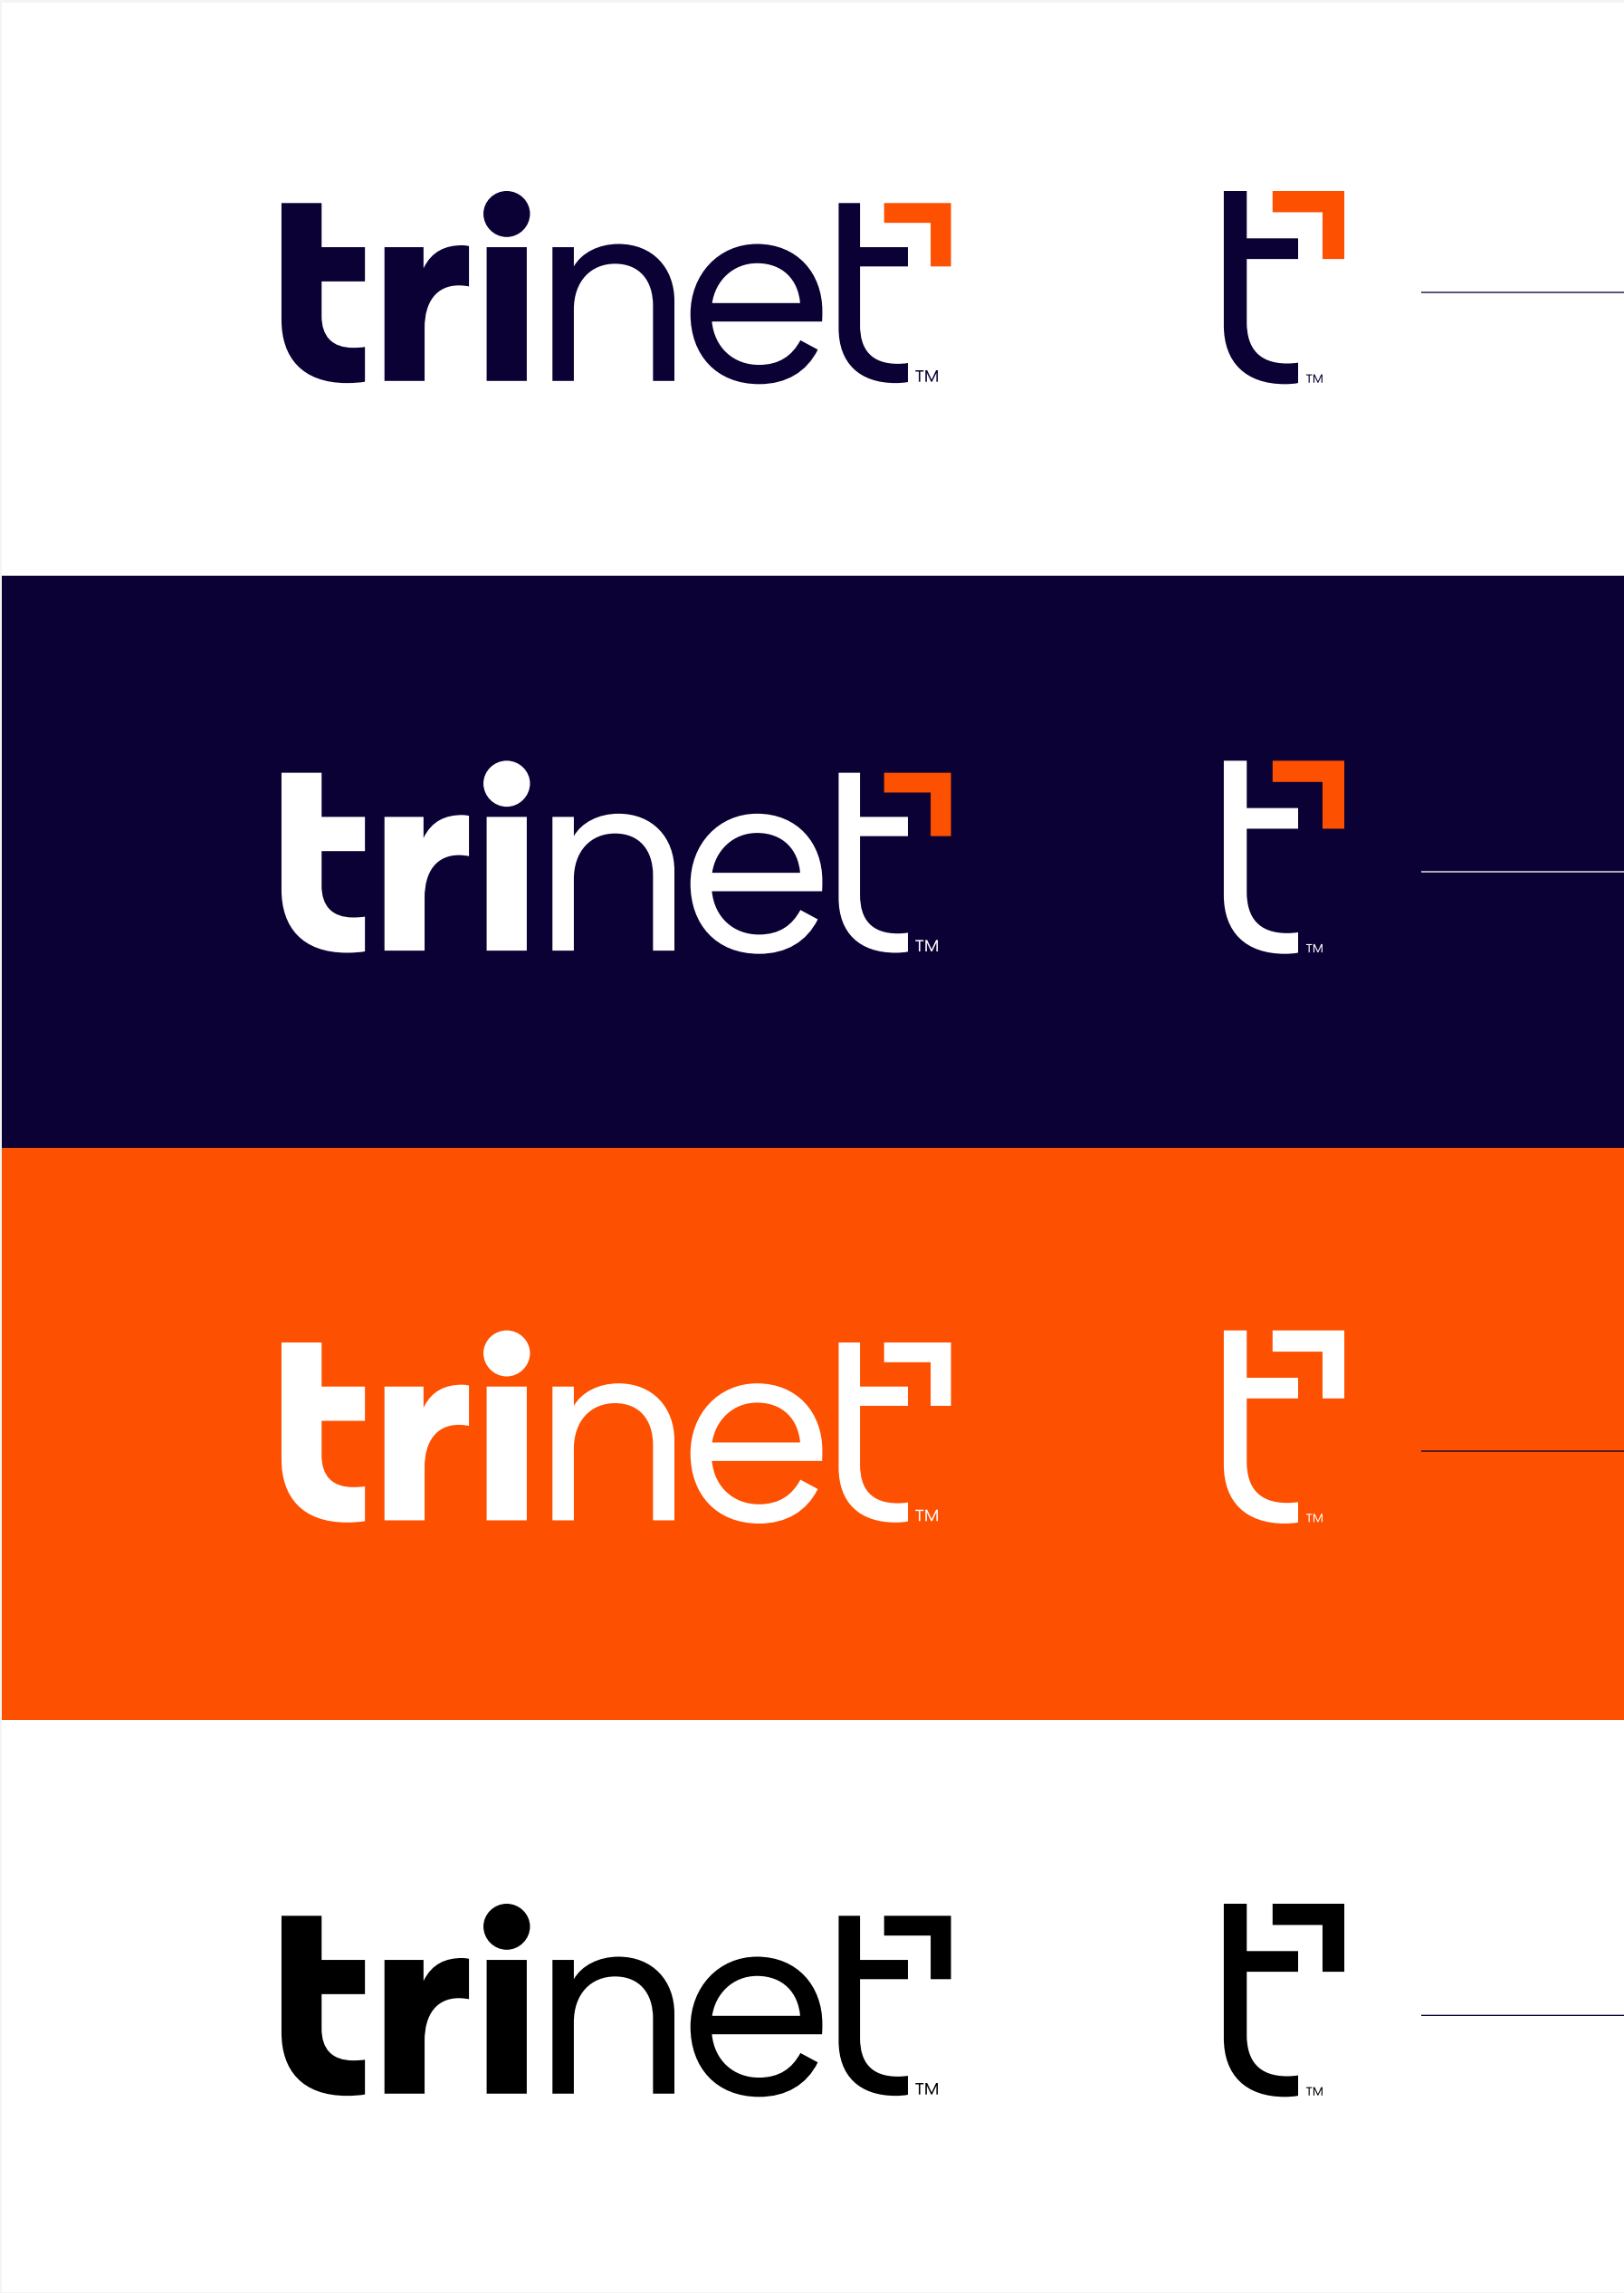

Usage

Please use the wordmark when space permits. Optimal use cases for the symbol include very small contexts such as app icons and social media avatars.

Logo Color

There are four versions of the wordmark and symbol available for use: full-color, reversed-out, white and black.

Logo

Full-Color Wordmark on Photography

USE HIGH-CONTRAST BACKGROUNDS

Why This Works
The full-color wordmark is placed on a portion of the image with a light background, providing adequate contrast for legibility.

AVOID LOW-CONTRAST BACKGROUNDS

Why This Isn't Recommended
The full-color wordmark does not have enough contrast against the midtone background. The reversed-out wordmark would have been a better option in this scenario.

Logo

Reversed-Out Wordmark on Photography

ENHANCE READABILITY & LEGIBILITY

Why This Works
The reversed-out version of the wordmark reads easily, with the orange wing mark providing a moment of brand emphasis.

AVOID COMPLICATED BACKGROUNDS

Why This Isn't Recommended
The wordmark is placed on a visually complex image. An image like the one above might necessitate using a subtle dark overlay in order to place the wordmark directly on it.

Logo

White Wordmark on B&W Photography

USE ON DARK BACKGROUNDS

Why This Works
The white wordmark stands out boldly from dark backgrounds in B&W print outputs.

AVOID PLACING ON LIGHT BACKGROUNDS

Why This Isn't Recommended
In this scenario, the white wordmark could have been placed in the lower right corner. Another option would have been to place the black logo in the upper left corner.

Logo

Black Wordmark on B&W Photography

USE ON LIGHT BACKGROUNDS

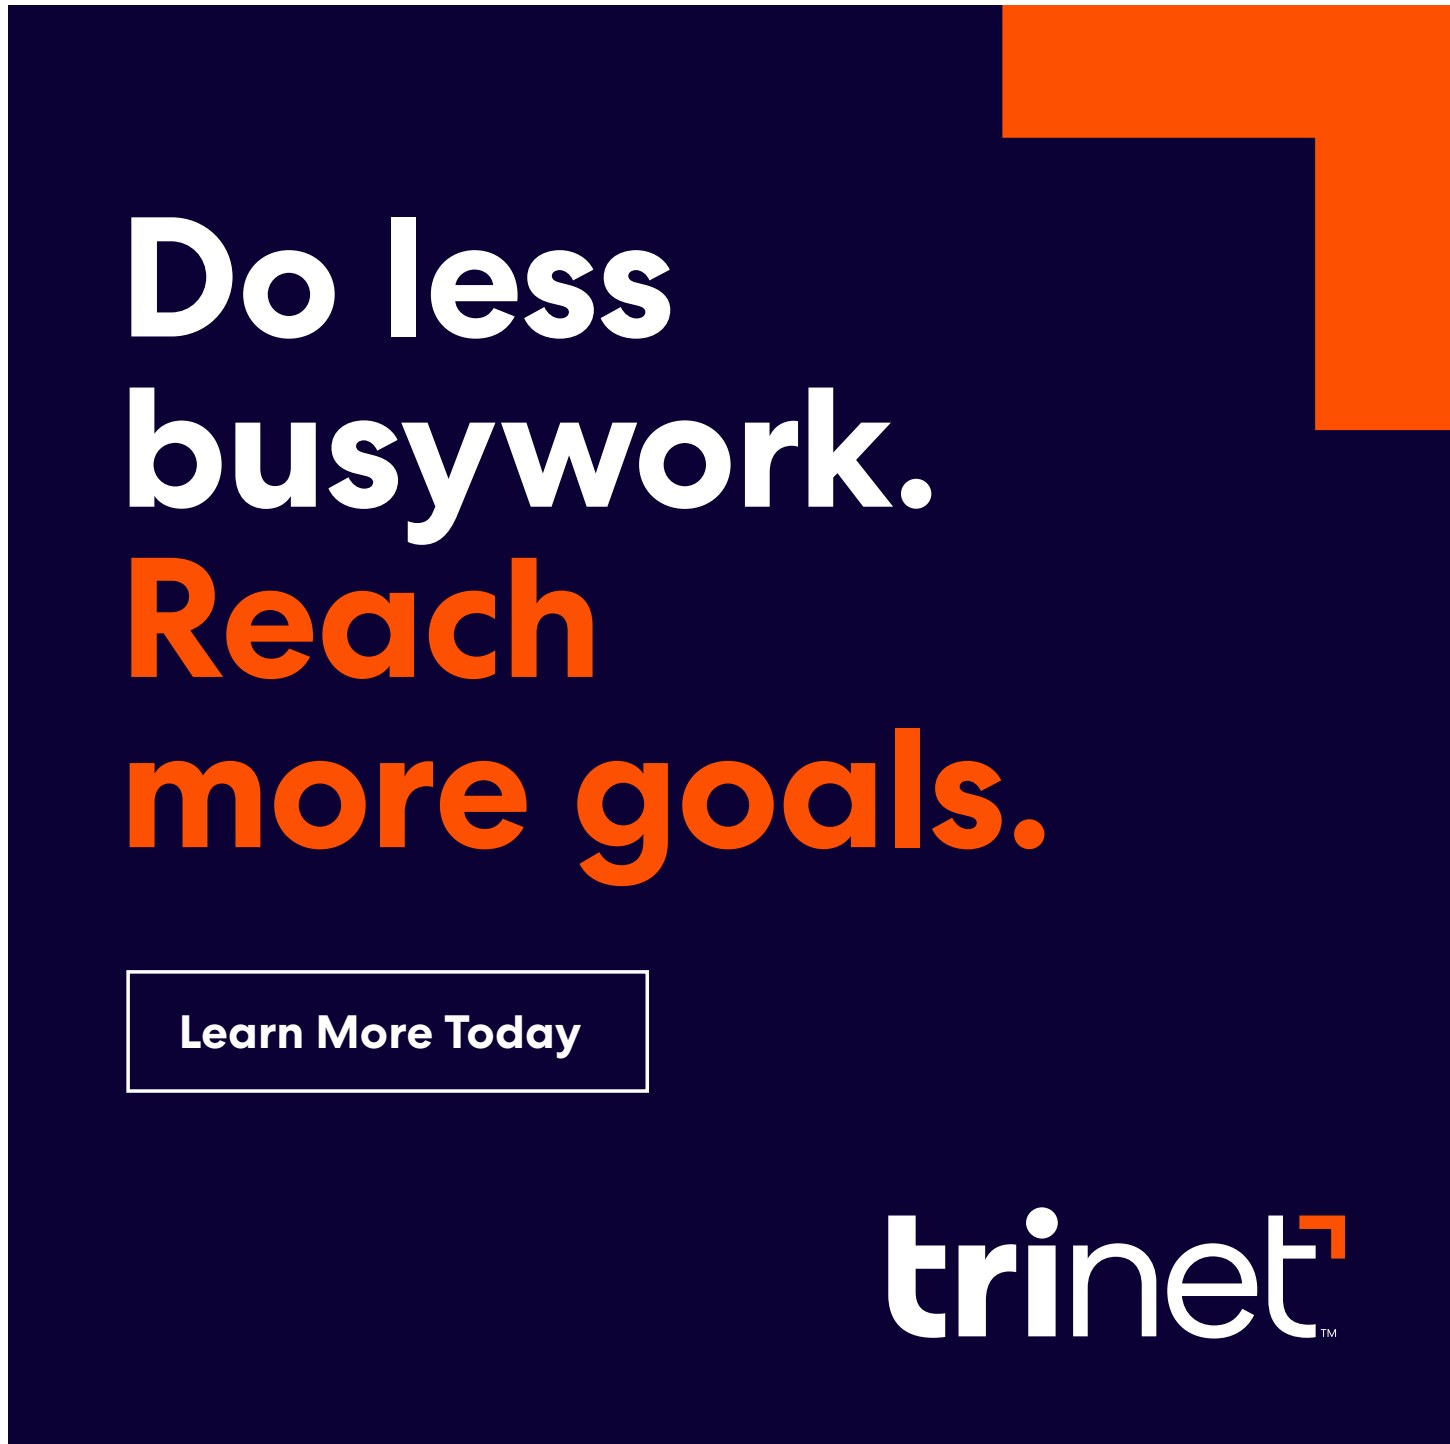

Why This Works
The all-black wordmark stands out decisively from the grayscale image in B&W print outputs.

AVOID MAKING THE LOGO GRAYSCALE

Why This Isn't Recommended
Using a grayscale wordmark in B&W outputs dilutes the power and simplicity of the TriNet wordmark and wing mark.

Logo Placement Do's

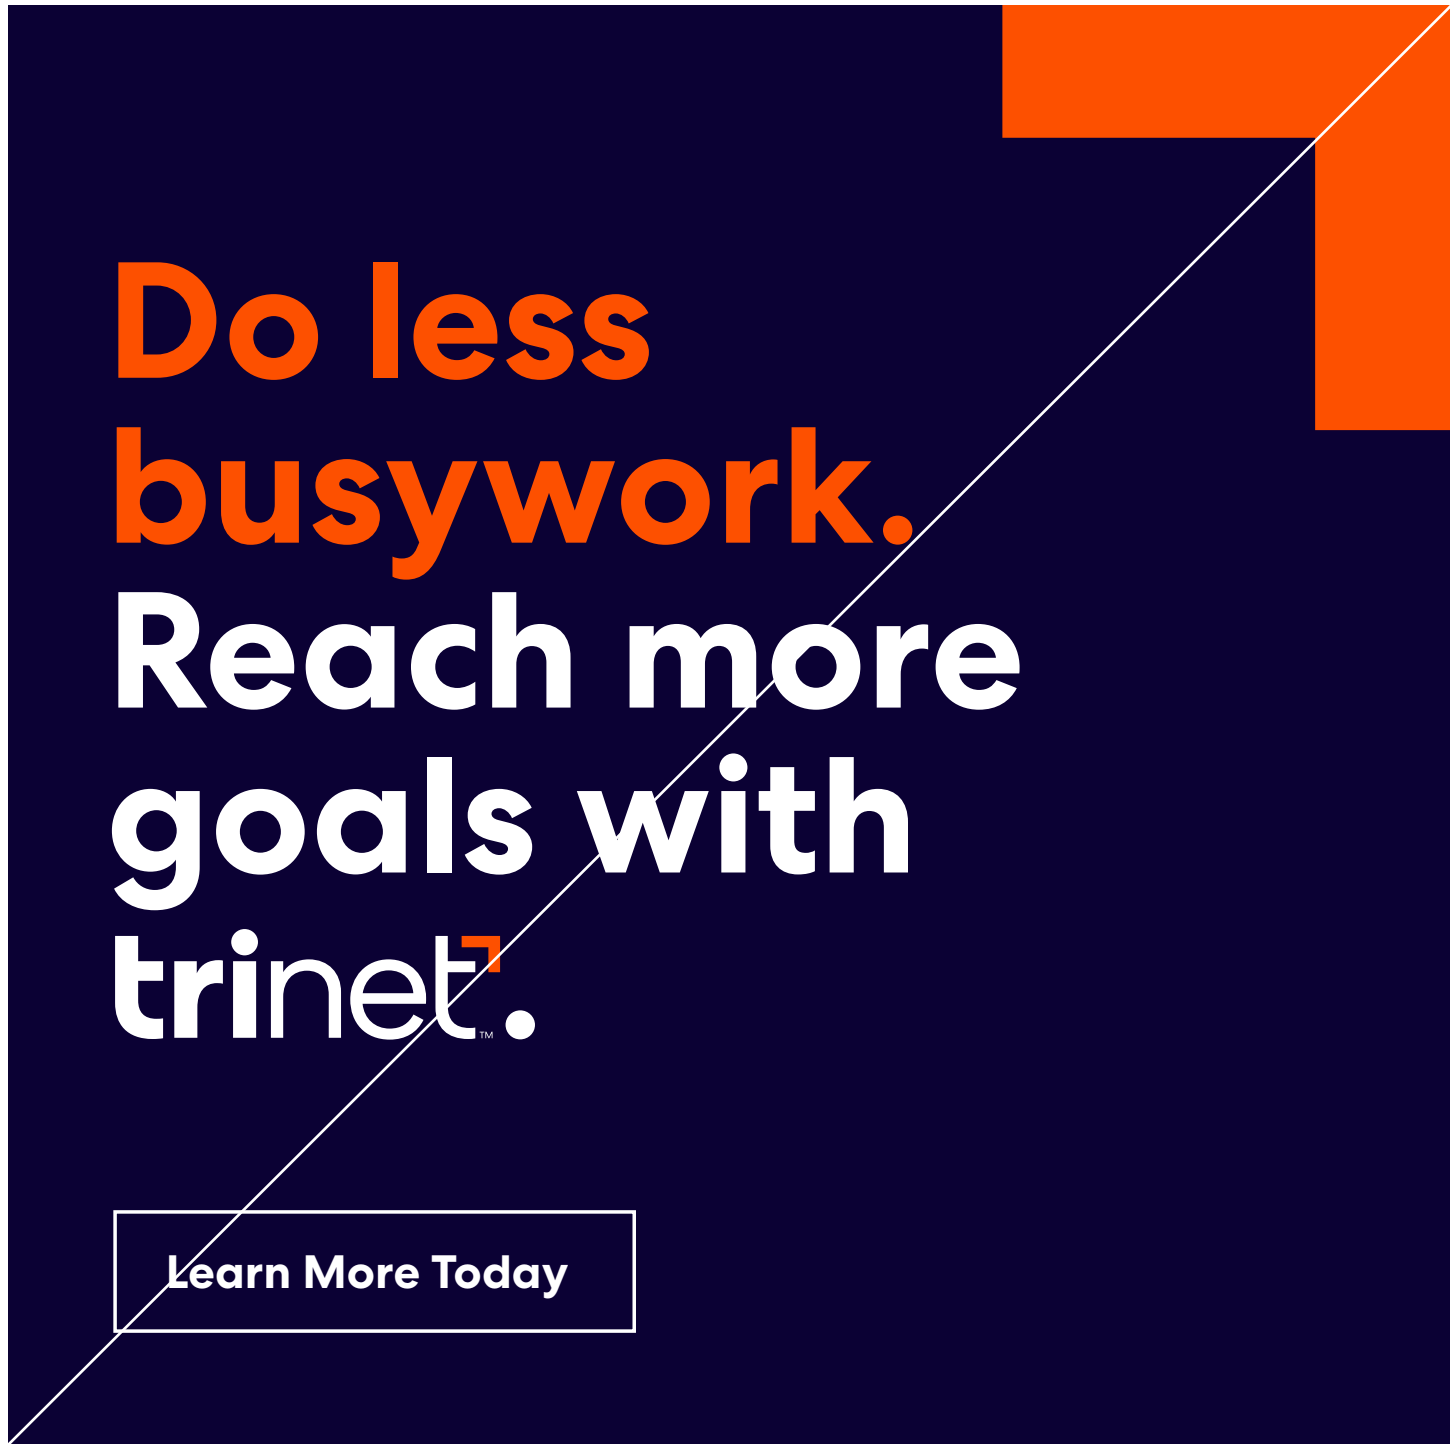

Why This Works
The wordmark is surrounded by sufficient clearspace on all sides.

Why This Works
The symbol is clearly visible and large enough to make a brand impact.

Logo Placement Don'ts

Why This Doesn't Work
The wordmark has been inserted into the display ad's copy, lessening the impact of the TriNet brand.

Why This Doesn't Work
When too closely cropped, the symbol is not identifiably TriNet.

Tagline Lock-Up

Overview

“People Matter” is our TriNet brand tagline. Make sure to use “People Matter” only in relevant campaign touchpoints.

PEOPLE MATTER

The tagline sits nicely below the logo.
Set in sentence case letterforms.
The tagline has the same width as the logo.

Tagline Lock-Up

Clear space

The clear space refers to the empty area surrounding a wordmark or logo that should be kept free of any other visual elements or text. Its purpose is to ensure that the brand’s key visuals are easily recognizable and not cluttered by other design elements.

When applying clear space guidelines, it is recommended to maintain at least one “wing mark” of clearspace on all sides of the wordmark or symbol. However, if possible, increasing the clear space beyond this minimum requirement can enhance the brand’s impact.

Brand Font

Centra No. 2 is an approachable, contemporary geometric sans serif typeface. Its balanced and harmonious structure is close to that of classic geo sans typefaces like Futura and Avenir, but Centra No. 2 has been drawn for the digital age, with readability, legibility and versatility in mind. Its clean, evergreen design sensibility—with just a splash of personality—is in line with TriNet’s People Matter ethos.

B&W

The use of B&W documentary-style photography lends authenticity and humanity to TriNet’s visual identity. This style of photography is characterized by candid, natural and un-staged images, which aim to capture real moments from real people.

Note that the photography does not have to be completely black-and-white but instead can be highly desaturated to retain hints of subtle color that adds warmth and life.

Photography

Color

The bold use of color in our docu-style photography lends a sense of emotive depth to TriNet’s visual identity. The use of color and light is captivating, utilizing dramatic contrast to create visually striking and dynamic images that underscore our People Matter ethos.

Cropping

- Avoid rotating imagery.
- Avoid cropping heads. Try to show as much of the subject as possible, though feet are not always necessary to capture.
- Blur IP if necessary.

Photography

Diversity & Inclusion

Be sure to promote diversity in image selection. Choose images that reflect diversity in terms of race, ethnicity, age, gender and other characteristics. Avoid using stock photos that could perpetuate stereotypes.

Photography Usage

The system allows both black & white and color photography across all touchpoints.

Consider accessibility when using color or black and white photography. Ensure that the chosen photography maintains sufficient contrast and is easily distinguishable for individuals with visual impairments or color vision deficiencies.

BLACK & WHITE PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography Usage

BLACK & WHITE PHOTOGRAPHY

Photography Usage

When working with a diverse color palette, both black and white photography and color photography can be effective.

Consider mood, message and visual consistency when choosing between the two styles. Black & white photography can create a timeless and sophisticated look while color photography can add vibrancy, depth and visual interest to the designs.

Photography Misuse

AVOID EFFECTS OR TRANSPARENCIES

Why This Doesn't Work
Effects like transparencies lessen the vivid, emotive impact of our photography style.

AVOID CLOSE CROPS

Why This Doesn't Work
Cropping in too closely eliminates out the real-life contexts that make these compelling docu-style portraits and degrades the overall image quality.

Photography Misuse

AVOID STAGED PHOTOGRAPHY

Why This Doesn't Work
This style of photography feels overly composed, lacking the feeling of authenticity that is core to the TriNet brand.

AVOID COLOR OVERLAYS

Why This Doesn't Work
Color overlays decrease the feeling of authenticity in the imagery.

Graphic Motif

Overview

Our wing motif is a powerful symbol of growth and progress, signaling how we partner with customers to lift them up. It represents TriNet’s commitment to helping SMBs overcome obstacles and reach for success. This section will include how to use the wing motif to reinforce, frame or lift imagery and messaging.

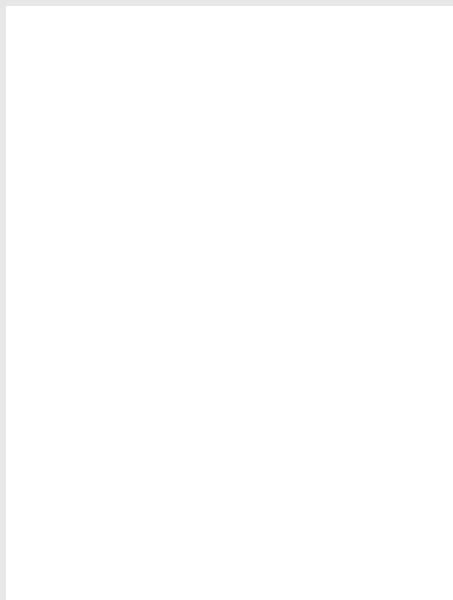

Graphic Motif

Determining the Motif's Size

The wing motif can be used at different sizes depending on the size and composition of the layout. Its size should be determined based on the height of the format and it should always be placed toward the right pointing up and forward.

The wing motif can be placed along the edge of the layout or with a margin equal to the width of the wing motif legs.

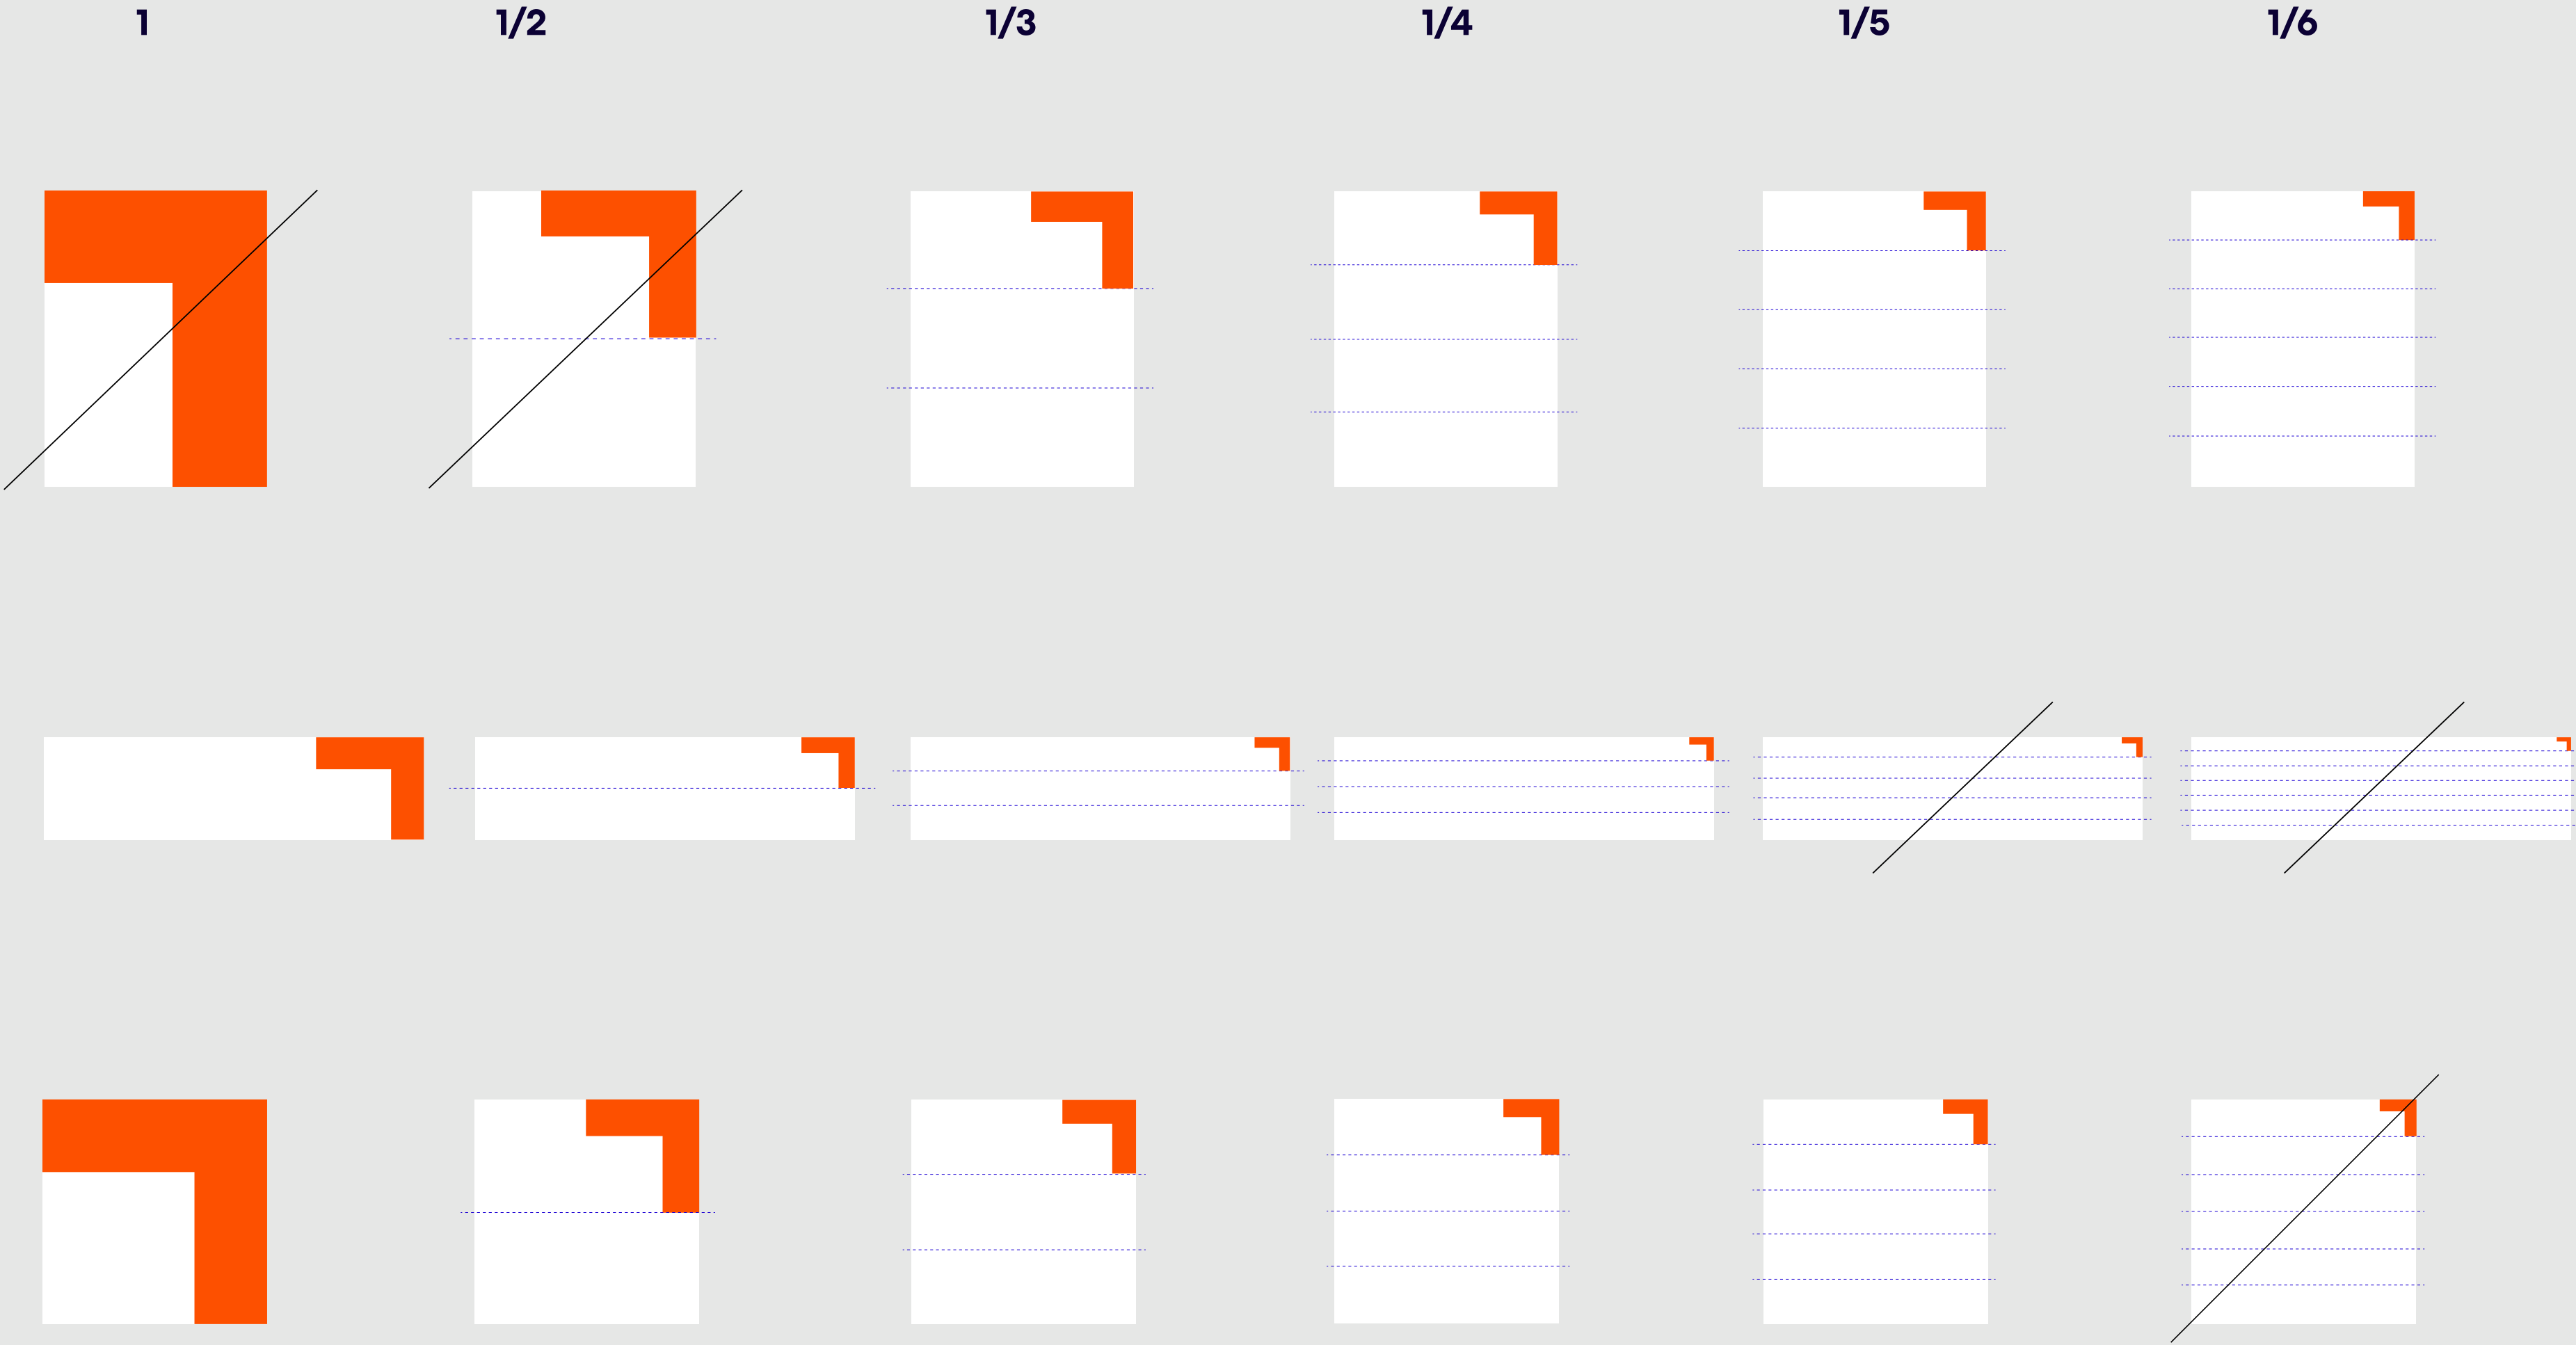

Graphic Motif

Sizing

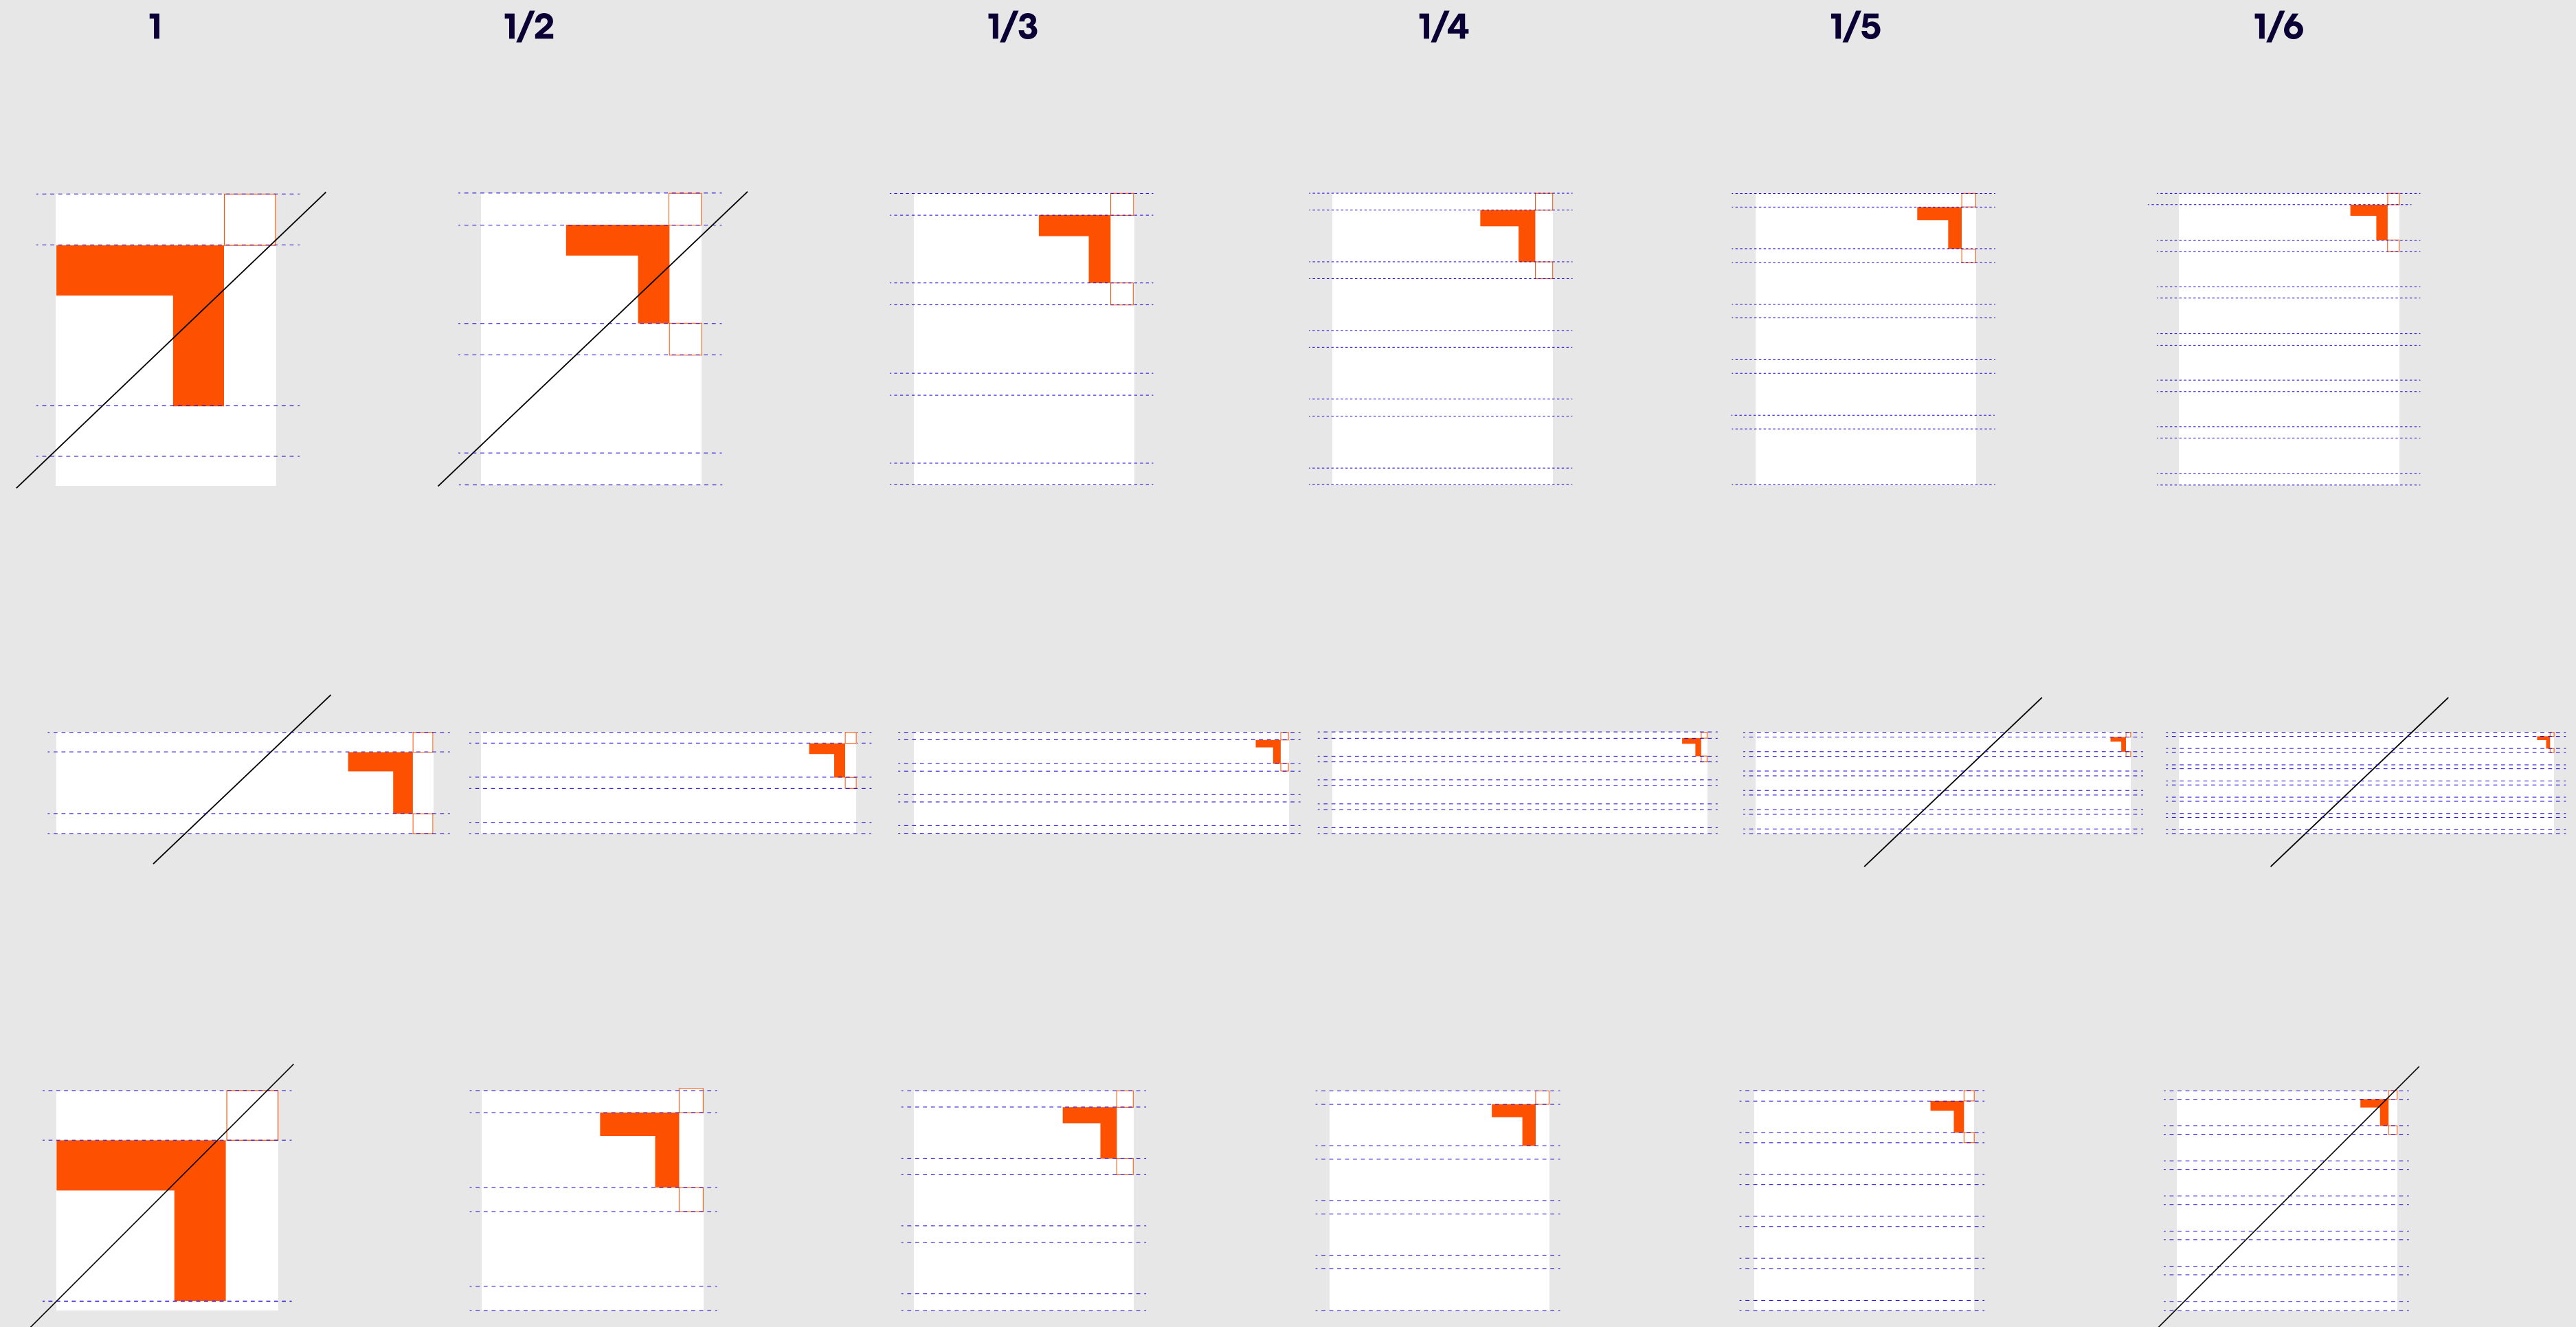

Depending on the aspect ratio of the layout format, the wing motif can be used in a range of sizes, but it should neither be too large nor too small.

Shown here are suggested size ranges according to layout orientation and aspect ratio.

Graphic Motif Sizing

The sizing guidance also applies to situations when the wing motif is placed with a margin toward the edge of the format.

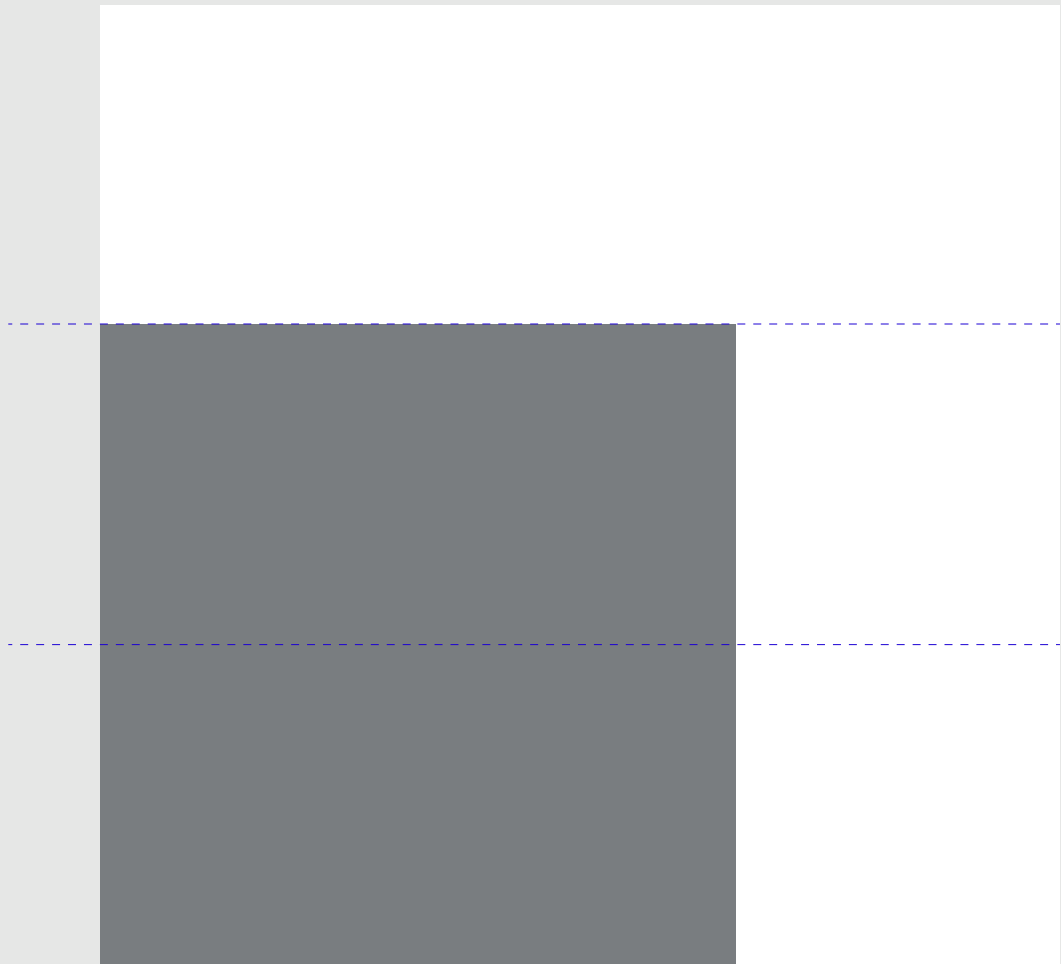

Graphic Motif

Construction for a Square Format

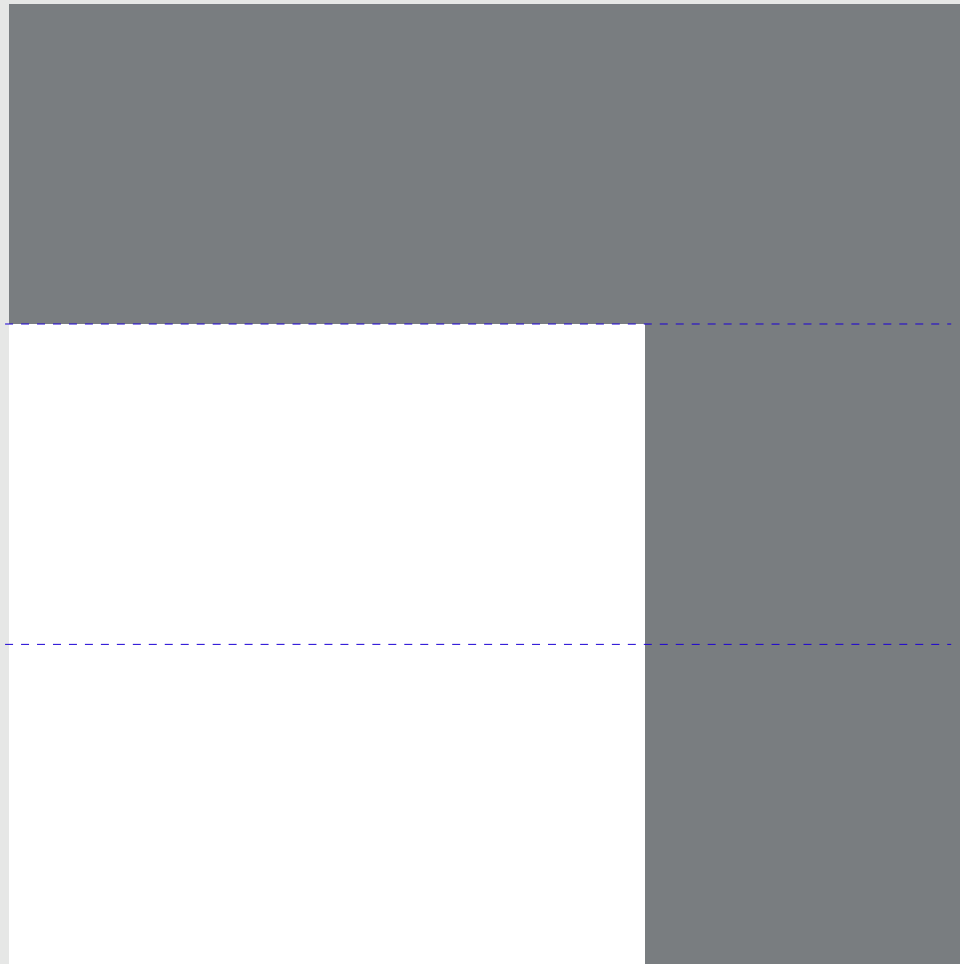

When working within a square format, there are additional compositions based on the geometry of the wing motif.

Note: Double-check that the wing is pointing up and right.

Wing motif with thickness of 1/3 of height or width of format

Wing motif with thickness of 1/6 of height or width of format

Wing motif at 1/4 of height or width of format

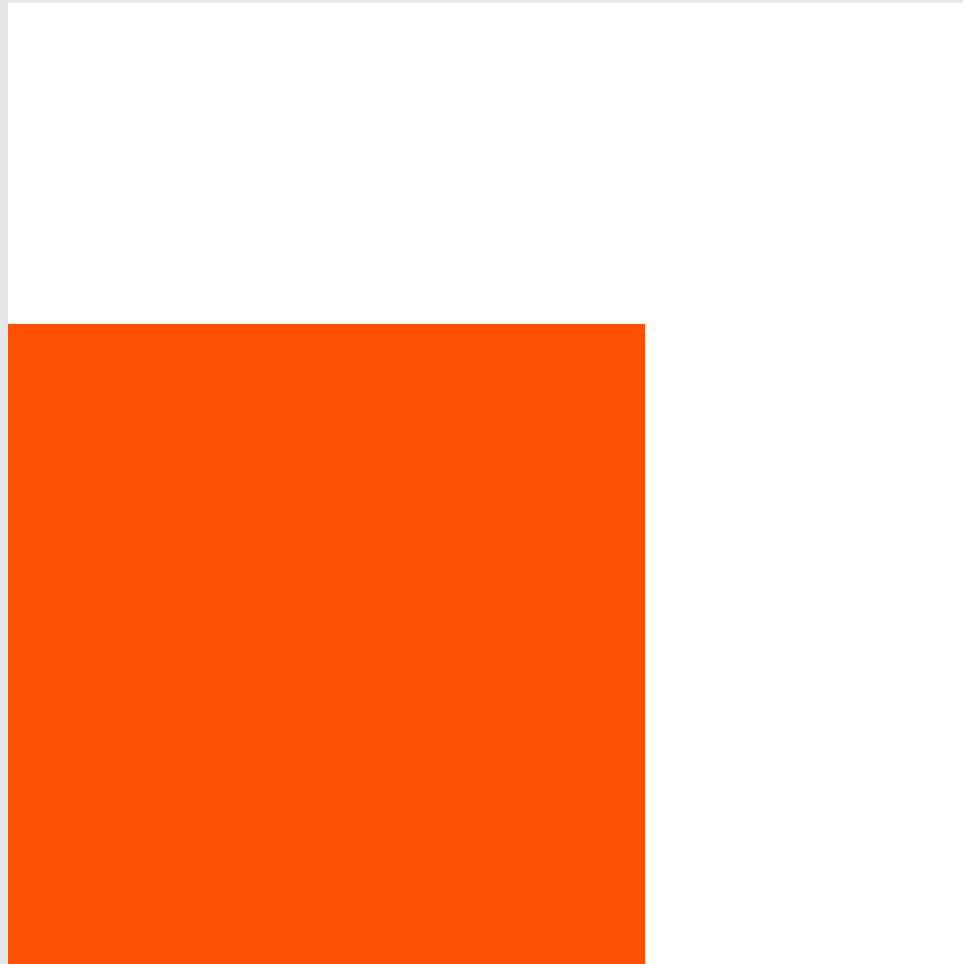

Graphic Motif

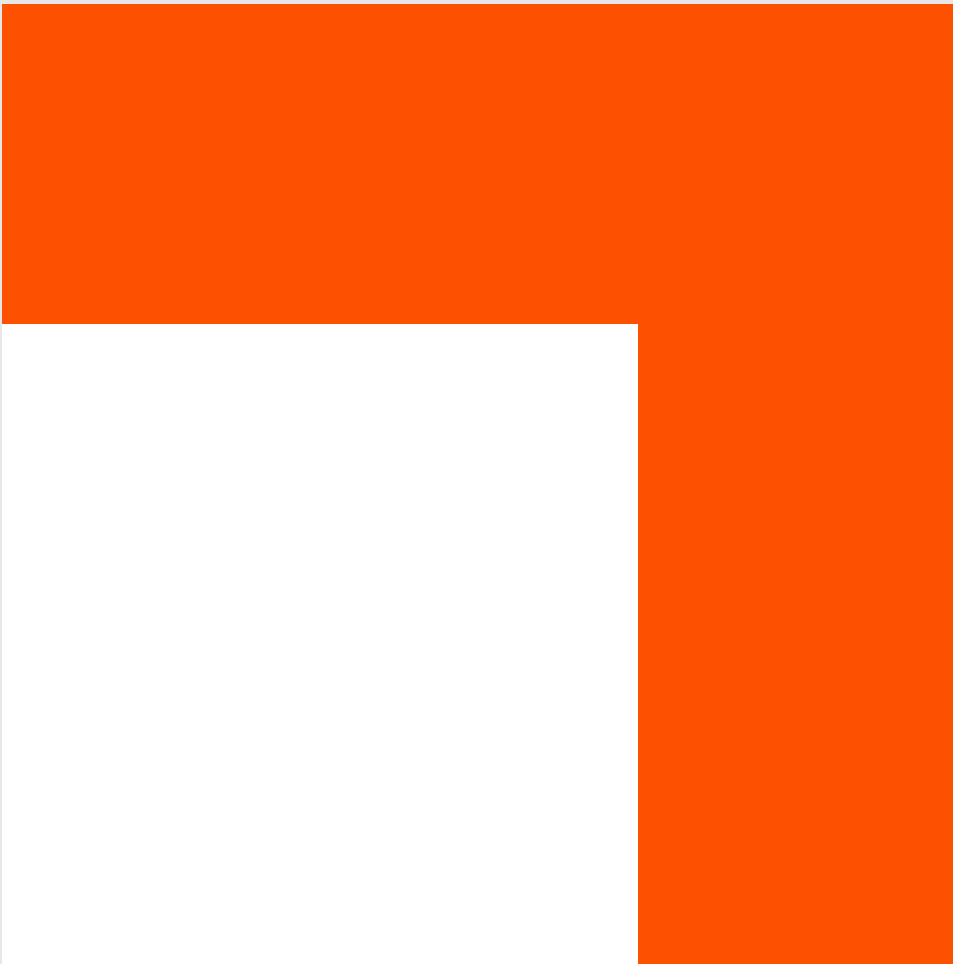

Construction for a Square Format

It is recommended to use TriNet Orange when using a wing motif. A square or rectangular container can be in TriNet Orange, TriNet Navy or a secondary color.

Follow the sizing chart on pages 146 and 147 for general guidance on recommended sizing of the wing motif when working within a rectangular format.

In formats with an aspect ratio of 2:1, the wing motif can be used to divide the layout into equal halves, as shown in the second example.

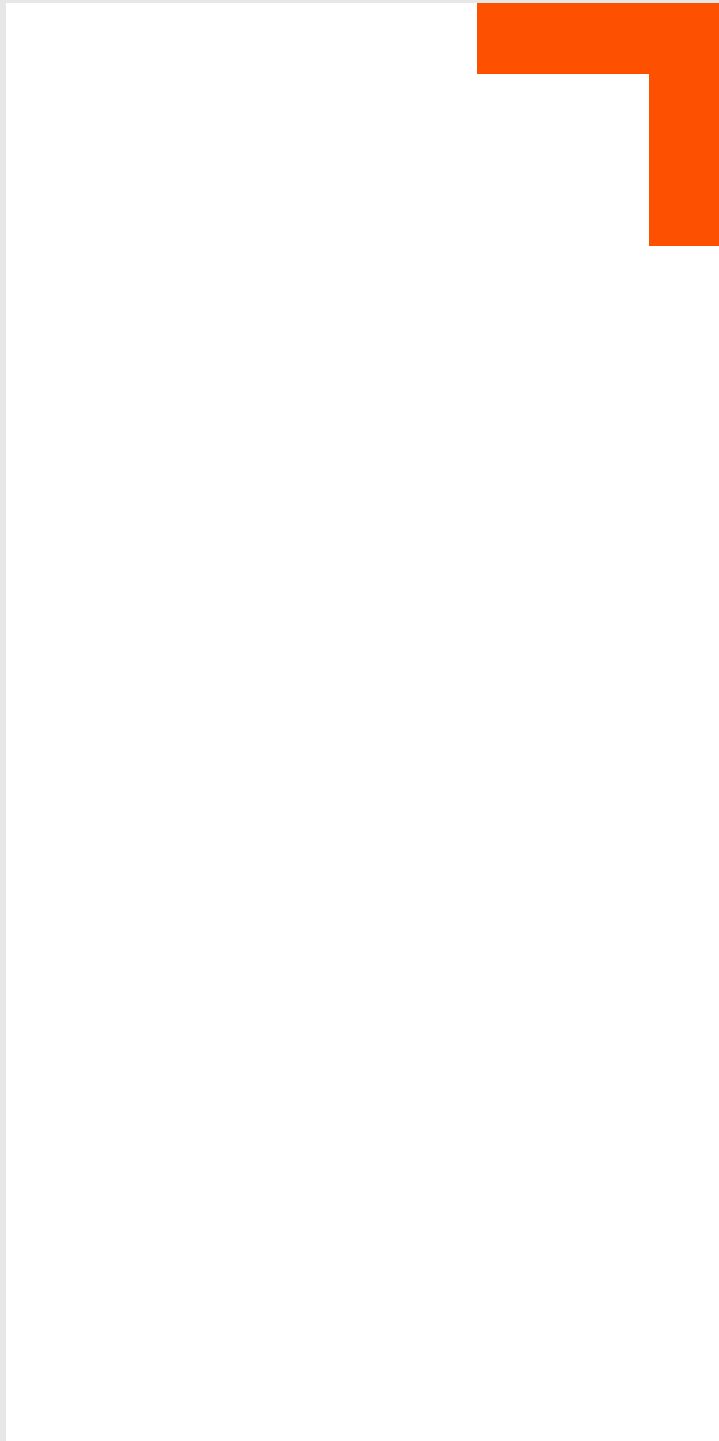

Graphic Motif

Constructing Containers

The wing motif can be adapted to create L shapes of varying proportions, which is especially effective for long-form content. The legs of these L-shapes do not have to be of equal weight or length.

When assigning a color to these shapes, always use a secondary color or TriNet Navy, never TriNet Orange.

While TriNet Orange cannot be used to fill an L shape, it can be used to fill negative space.

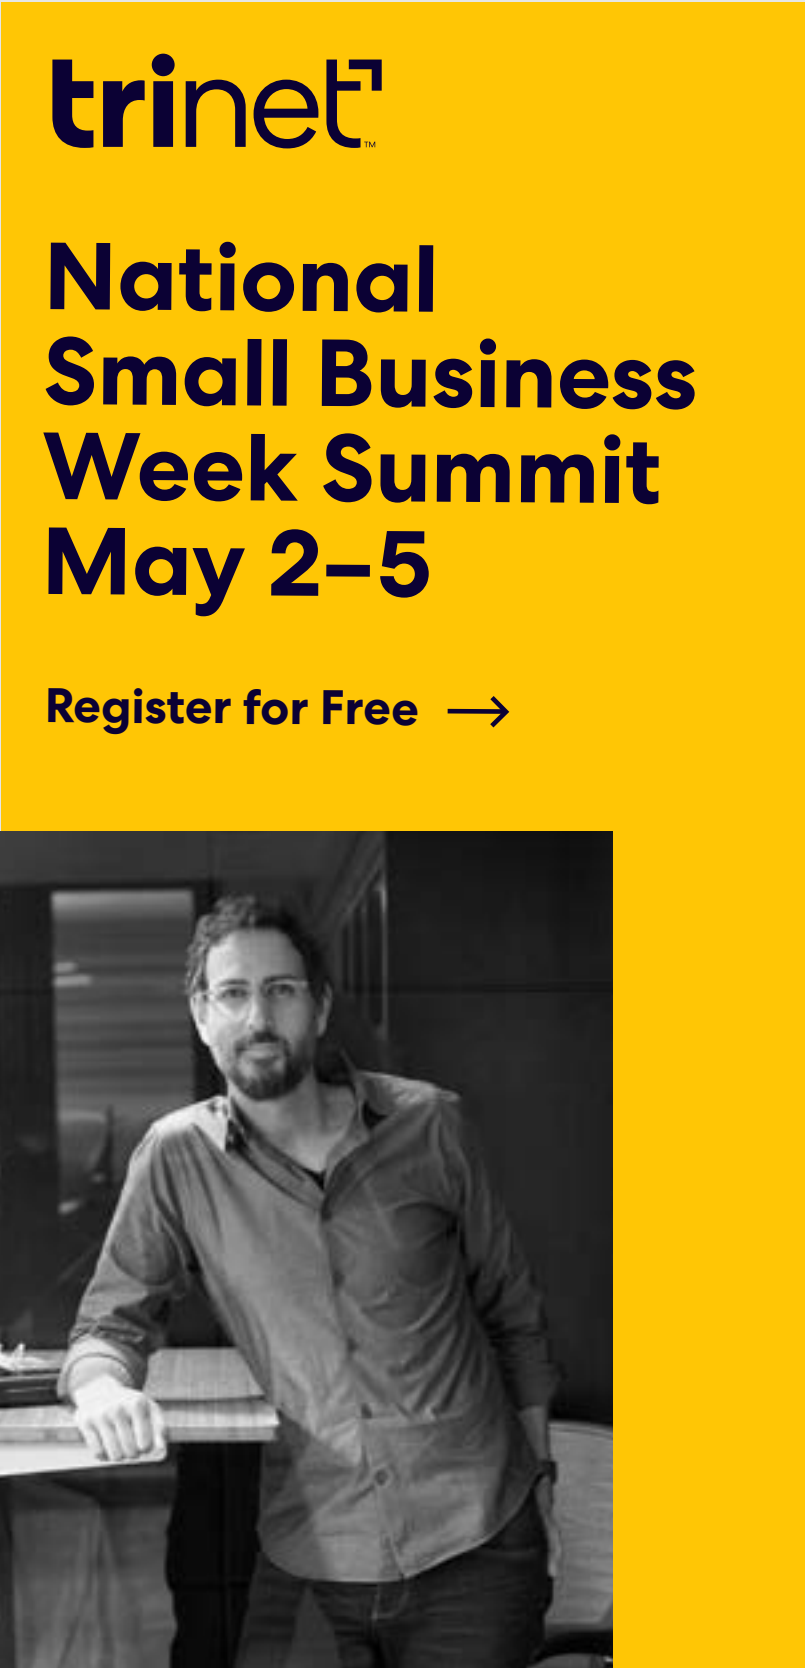

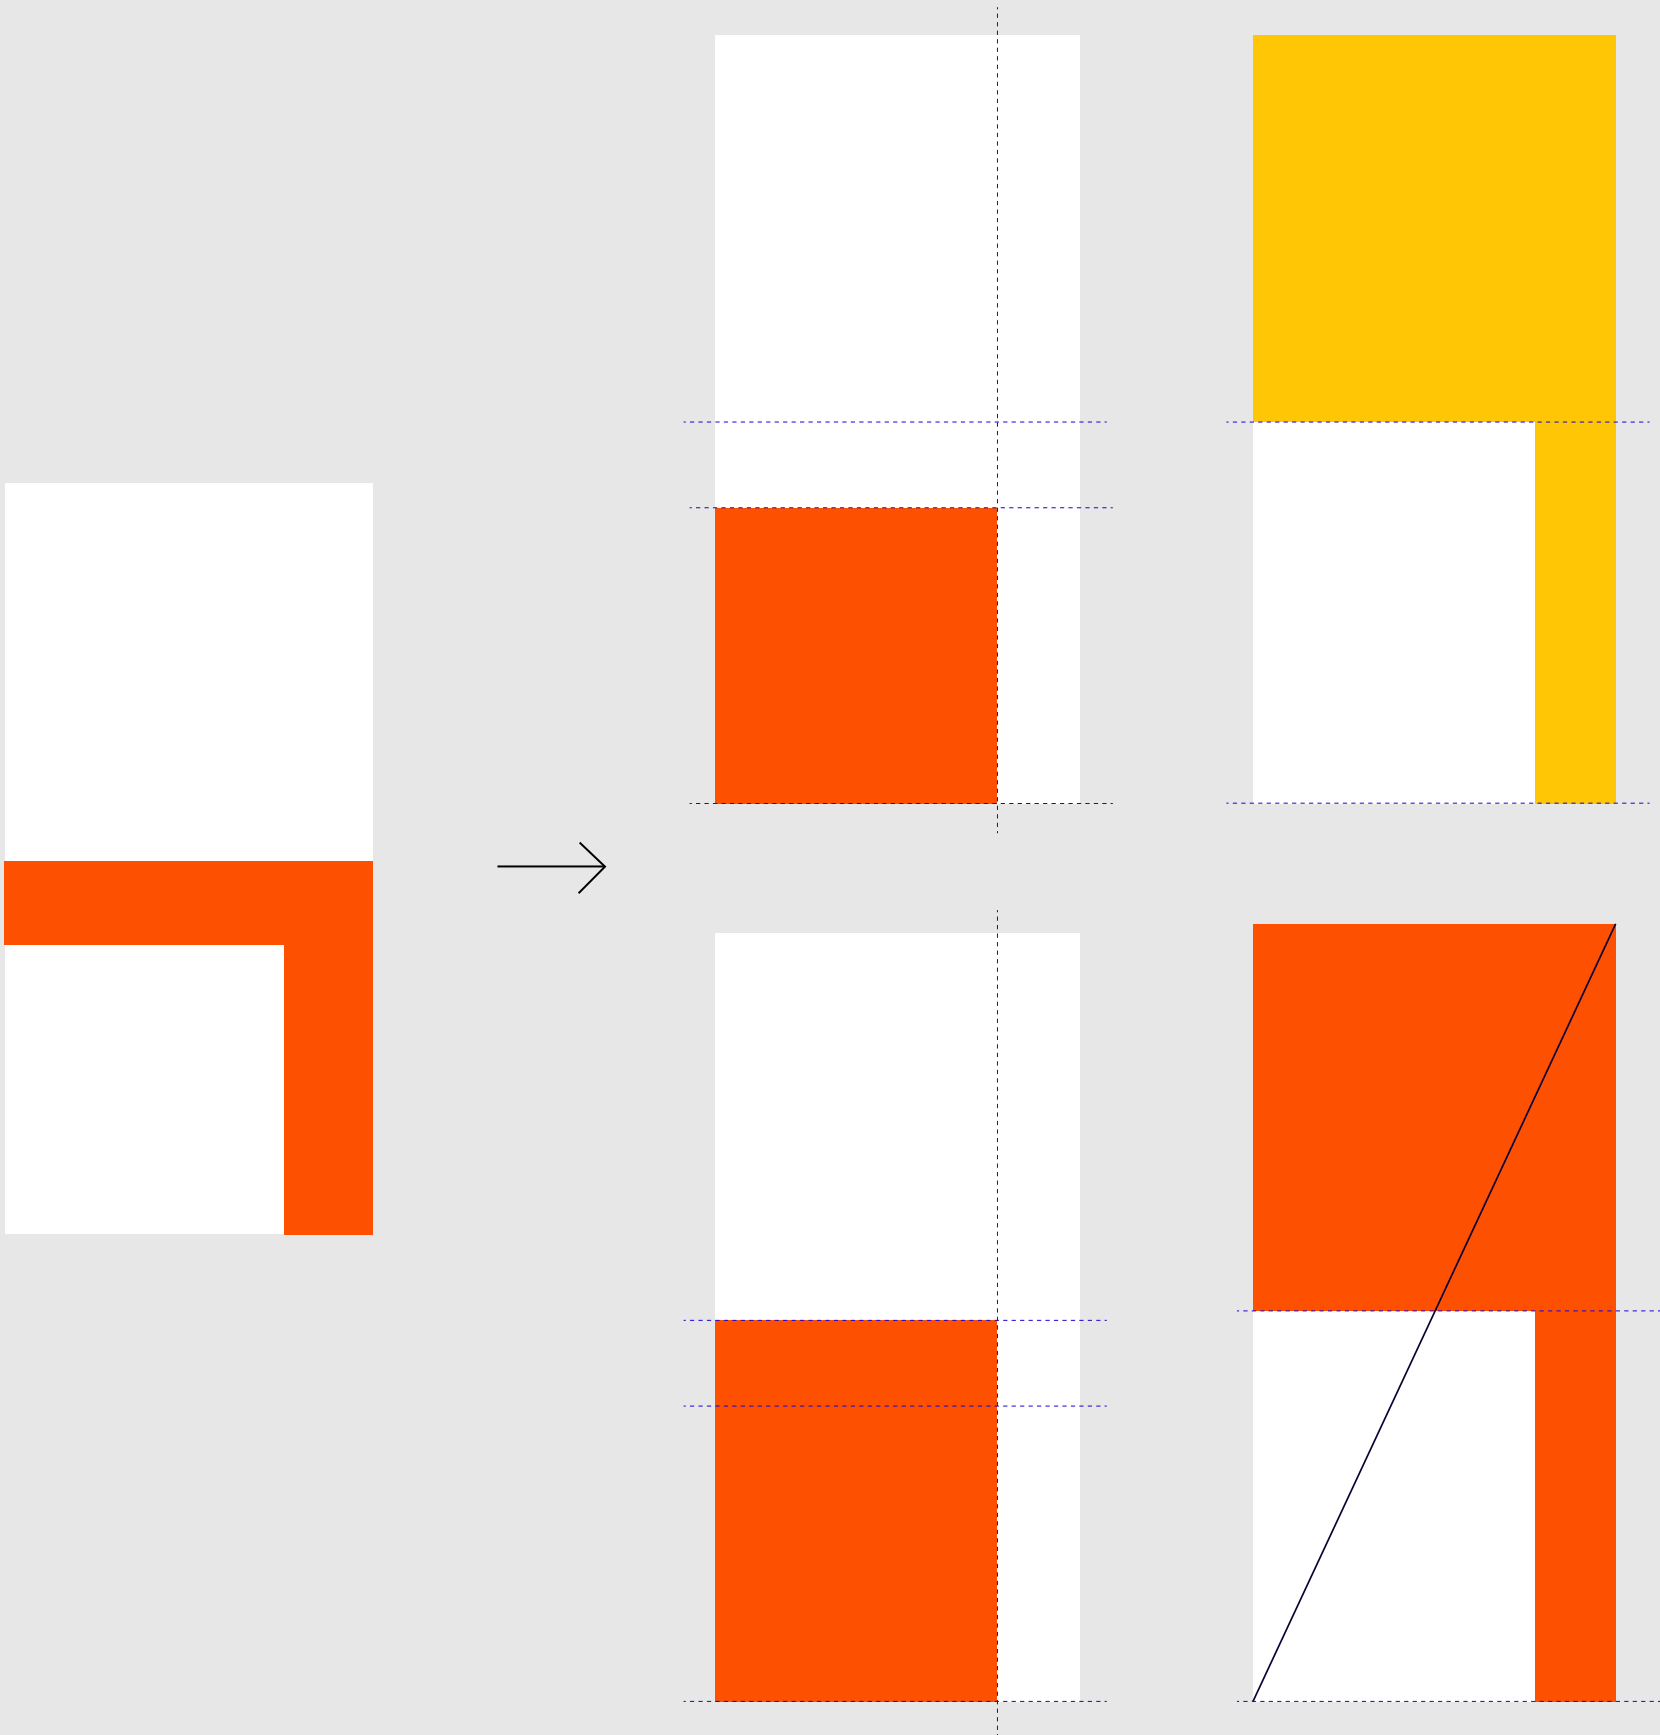

Graphic Motif

Constructing Containers

As demonstrated here, the wing motif can be positioned within the layout to create different containers:

- A container for messaging based on the square interior of the wing motif.
- A rectangular container created by extending the interior square and the top leg of the wing motif.
- By creating a rectangular container, an upside down L shape is created, which can also act as a container for copy.

Note that TriNet Orange should not be assigned to L-shapes that do not match the exact geometry of the wing motif. Instead, TriNet Navy secondary colors should be used.

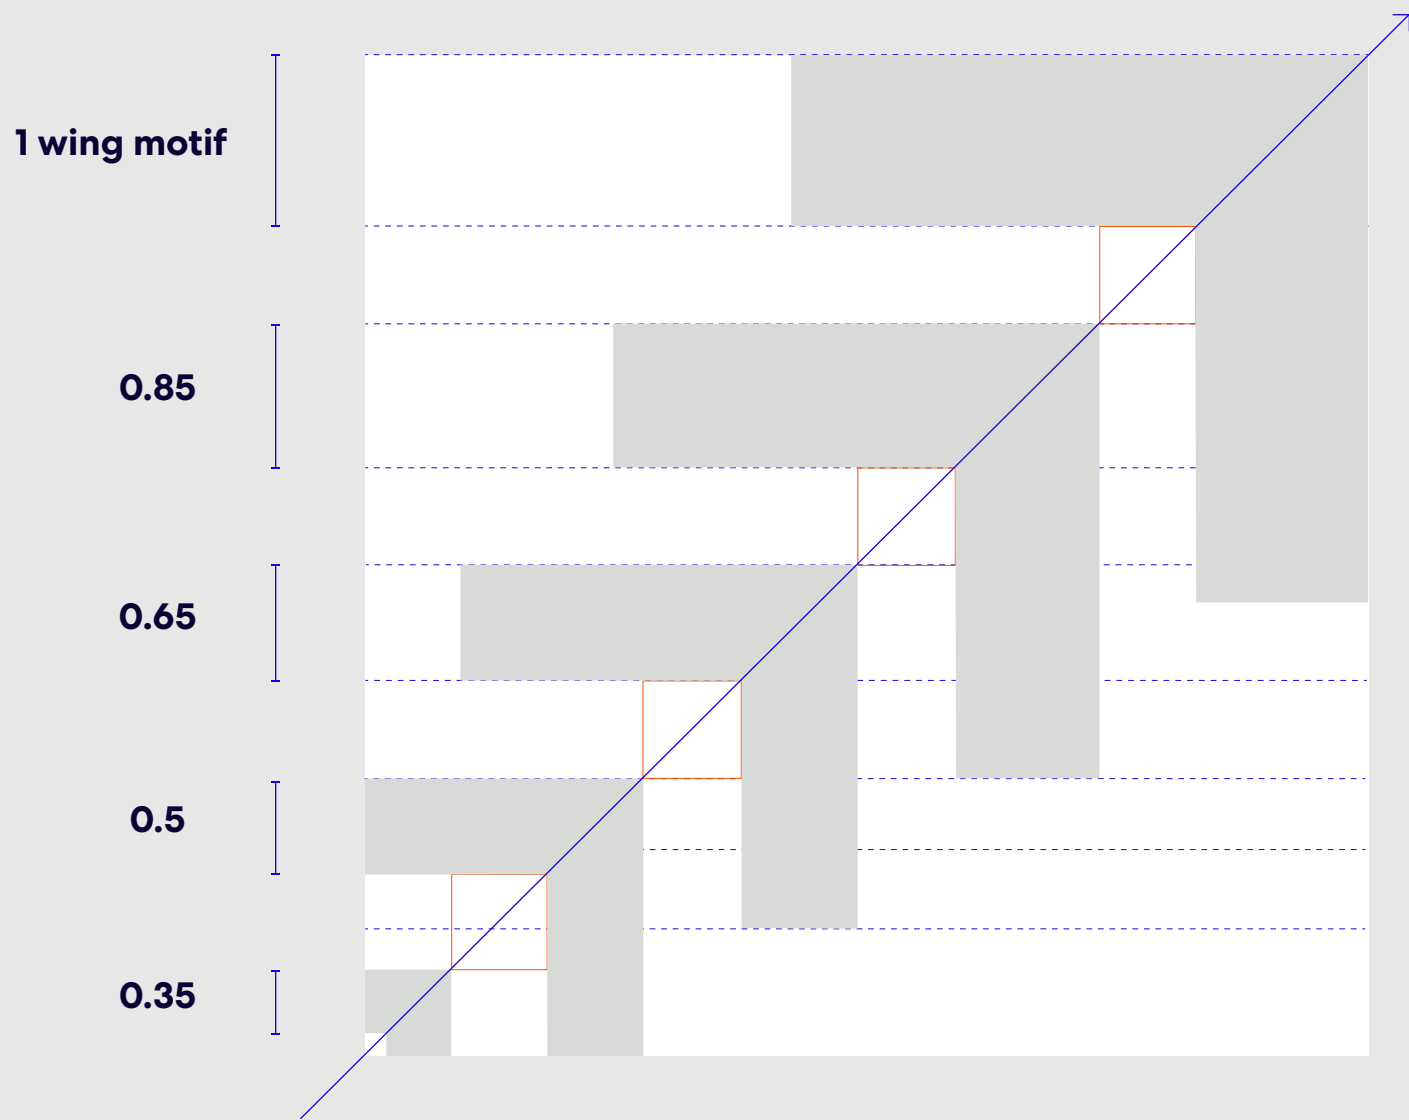

Graphic Motif Pattern

SWAG USE

The pattern on the right is inspired by the motif. It is duplicated to create a dynamic upward movement. Follow this grid to reproduce the pattern.

This pattern should be used for special applications only and should not be combined with imagery.

Note: You can change the spacing of wing motifs within the pattern to insert copy if needed.

Graphic Motif

Using Multiple Motifs

It is recommended to use only one wing motif per layout. But there are instances, where the addition of a second motif is acceptable to highlight smaller pieces of content. In this example, a small wing motif is used to accentuate the name and title of the people featured in the image.

Why This Works:

The small wing motif is used to support the copy. This wing is small enough to not compete with the larger wing.

Why This Doesn't Work:

The size of the second wing motif is too close to the larger wing.

Graphic Motif Misuse

FULL-BLEED WING

Why This Doesn't Work:
The wing motif should not be used as a full-bleed motif.

REPETITION

Why This Doesn't Work:
The wing motif should not be used as a repeated pattern.

The wing motif is an important visual element of our brand, using it as a repeated pattern can diminish its impact.

Graphic Motif Misuse

DIRECTION

Why This Doesn't Work:
Do not point the wing motif down.

ROTATION

Why This Doesn't Work:
Do not rotate the wing motif,

FRAME

Why This Doesn't Work:
Do not frame content using multiple wing motifs.

Graphic Motif Misuse

SIZE

Why This Doesn't Work:
The wing motif is too small.

PLACEMENT

Why This Doesn't Work:
The wing motif is placed too low on the page.

ORIENTATION

Why This Doesn't Work:
Do not reverse the orientation of the layout.

STRETCH

Why This Doesn't Work:
When adapting the proportions of the wing motif to work within your layout, do not use TriNet Orange for the resulting shape. TriNet Orange is only used for graphic shapes that stay true to the proportions of the wing motif.

AVOID CHANGING KEY VISUAL CHARACTERISTICS

Why This Doesn't Work:

- Using a gradient stroke
- Thinning the stroke weight
- Adding elements to icons

AVOID USING ICONS IN THE PLACE OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Why This Doesn't Work:

- Using an icon as illustration to complement messaging changes its meaning
- Icons are designed to work in small footprints and are too simple to work in large sizes as illustrations

Hand-Drawn Accents

Overview

Using hand-drawn typographic accents adds a personal, authentic touch to our communications. These accents can be used to highlight specific words or phrases, creating a sense of hierarchy and emphasis within the design.

However, it is important to use these accents thoughtfully and in moderation, as too many can become overwhelming and detract from the overall design.

On the right is an snapshot of the different accents available in our library.

Hand-Drawn Accents

Examples

In a document with a significant amount of text, it is important to exercise caution when using hand-drawn accents. While they can add visual interest and help emphasize certain words or phrases, it is crucial not to overuse them. Overusing hand-drawn accents can make the document appear cluttered and distract the reader from the main content.

STAY ON BRAND

Why This Works:

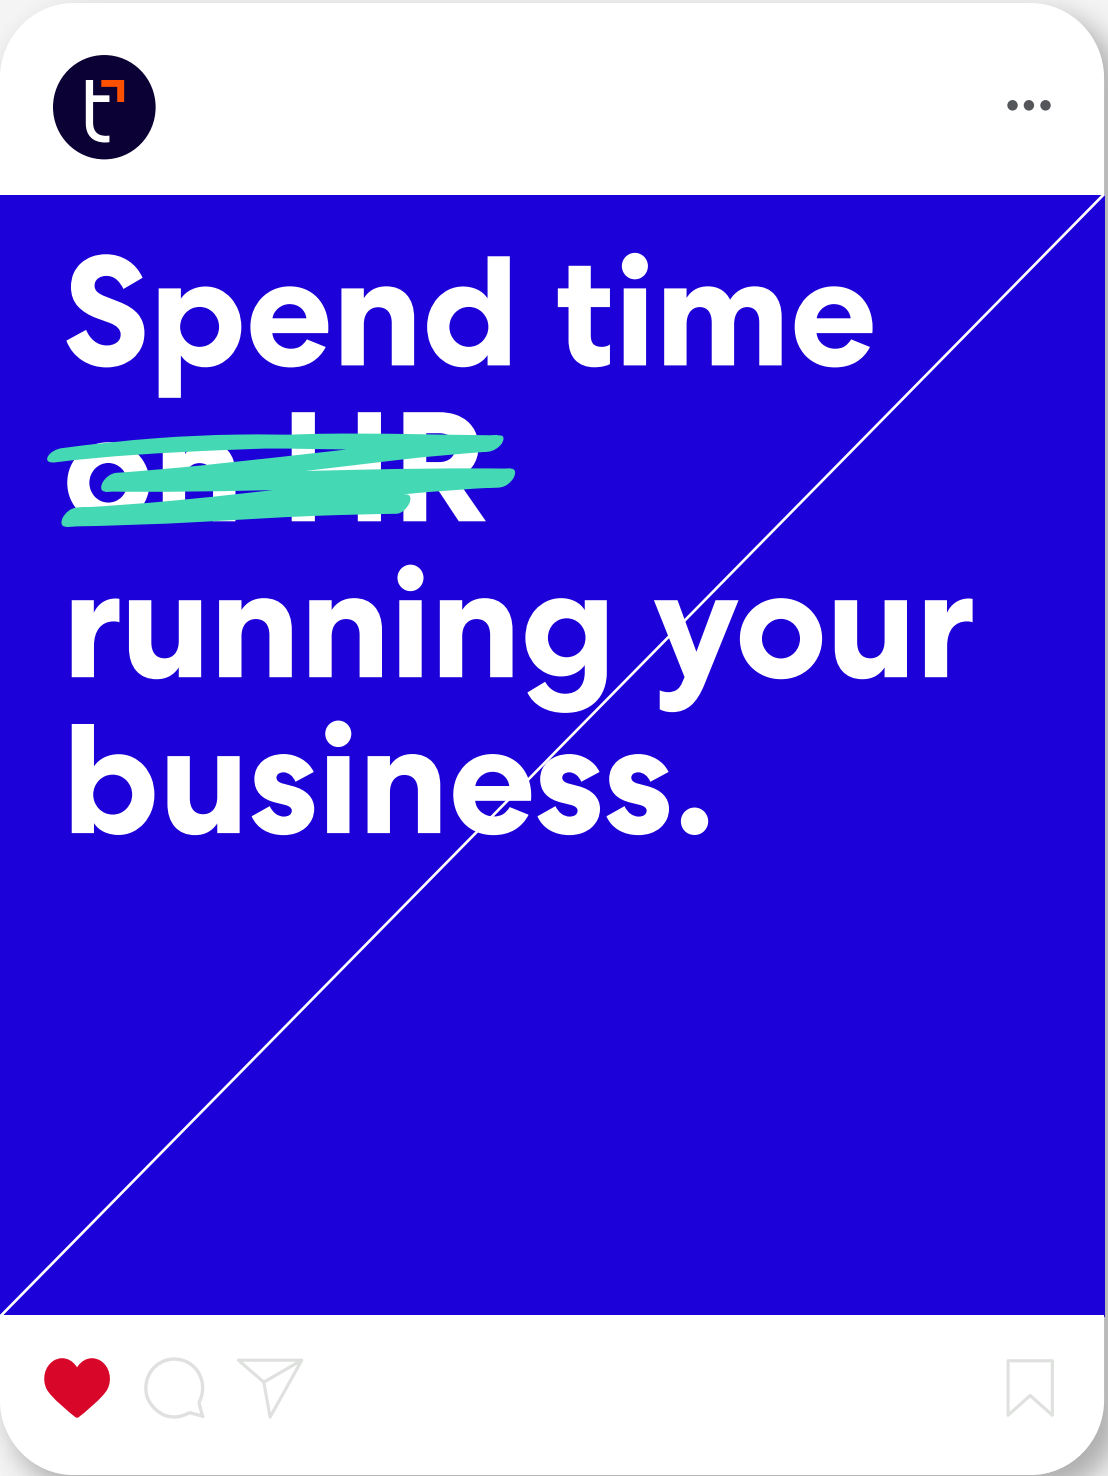

Using the primary brand color TriNet Orange for the hand-drawn accent connects this post visually to the TriNet brand.
